HYDE TO ANSWER FOR THE MURDER OF COL. SWOPE

Doctor Who Married the Niece of the Multi-Millionaire Under Arrest.

BOND FOR $50,000 MADE AND HYDE IS RELEASED

It Is Charged That Colonel Swope Died in Agony After Taking Capsule Given by Dr. Hyde — Plot to Murder All of the Swope Heirs Is Alleged.

Kansas City, February 10.—As a climax to the lengthy investigation of the mysterious death of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, on October 3, 1909, Dr. B. C. Hyde, husband of the late millionaire's niece, was arrested here today charged with the murder of the aged philanthropist.

The warrant upon which the arrest was made was issued at the request of Attorney John G. Paxton, executor of the Swope estate. First-degree murder is charged. The warrant says that Dr. Hyde, with felonious intent, administered strychnine to Colonel Swope on the day of his death.

Across the back of the complaint filed by Mr. Paxton asking for a warrant, Prosecutor Virgil Conkling wrote above his signature: "I hereby indorse this complaint."

Dr. Hyde surrendered quietly. He learned that a warrant was being sought, and, with his attorneys, went to the prosecutor's office to await the return of Mr. Conkling. He submitted to arrest without demanding to hear the warrant read. From here the party went to Independence, Mo., where Dr. Hyde was arraigned before Justice W. F. Loar. The physician pleaded not guilty. He was released on a bond of $50,000. His preliminary hearing was set for February 17.

Dr. Hyde Very Calm.

The calmest man in the justice's office in Independence was Dr. Hyde. While attorneys busied themselves making out the papers in the case, and while the few spectators whispered loudly and vied with one another for a view of the accused physician, he sat near County Marshal Joel B. Mayes, who made the arrest, and read a paper that told of the developments in the Swope investigation.

"By the way, Mr. Mayes," he said, folding up the paper, "I wish you would call up my house and have my wife informed that I will be home for dinner. She will be worrying about me."

Just as soon as the bond was accepted, Dr. Hyde hurried to his home.

The arrest followed quickly after Judge Ralph S. Latshaw called a grand jury today to investigate the death of Colonel Swope. Prosecutor Conkling made a request for a jury.

By dismissing his libel suit for $600,000 against Attorney John M. Paxton, Dr. Frank L. Hall and Dr. Edward J. Stewart today, Dr. Hyde removed himself from the range of attorneys who have been using every legal means known to get his depositions in the case. One suit for $100,000 is still pending against Attorney Paxton. It alleges slander.

History of the Swope Case.

The death of Colonel Thomas H. Swope on October 3 last was attended by circumstances which mystified the millionaire's family and close friends. Dr. Hyde, who had treated Colonel Swope during his last hours, signed the death certificate, giving apoplexy as the cause of his demise.

When in December an epidemic of typhoid fever raged in the Swope household, during which eight persons were stricken, and one, Chrisman Swope, died under conditions that caused much apprehension among the attending nurses, John Paxton, the executor, and Mrs. Logan Swope, mother of Chrisman, instituted a vigorous investigation.

Dr. Edward L. Stewart came forward with the statement that on November 10, Dr. Hyde had secured from him an active typhoid culture. After Dr. Stewart had divulged this information, Dr. Hyde was placed under constant surveillance of detectives.

Dr. Stewart, in telling his story to the attorneys of the Swope estate and to Prosecutor Virgil Conkling, explained that a typhoid culture consisted of a test tube filled with a media on which the typhoid bacteria lived. This media was covered with a healthy growth of bacteria. The test tube given Dr. Hyde, he said, contained an algal media and millions of the minute typhoid bacteria.

Illness of Dr. Hyde.

December 20, Dr. Hyde himself suffered an attack stated to be typhoid fever, which added to the complications of the case. Dr. Stewart later supplied the prosecuting attorneys with some interesting evidence bearing on Dr. Hyde's illness.

"When Dr. Hyde became ill," said Dr. Stewart, "I was asked to make an examination of his blood for typhoid. He asked that I make the midial test. This will show typhoid fever even if the subject whose blood is examined suffered from the disease several years before. An examination of the blood of Dr. Hyde showed a faint trace of typhoid.

"I then asked permission to make the culture test. This is an absolute test for typhoid if it is actively present in the blood when the blood is taken from the patient."

Dr. Stewart said that although Dr. Hyde's blood was placed side by side

ABOUT TRUSTS TAFT CONFERS WITH ALDRICH

Consequences of Supreme Court Decision in Oil and Tobacco Cases Feared.

TAFT IS DETERMINED TO "HEW TO THE LINE"

President Lets It Be Known That He Will Not Be Swerved by Flurries in Wall Street. Court Decision Fraught With Grave Financial and Political Consequences.

Washington, February 10.—A conference which was held at the white house last night between President Taft and Senator Aldrich, was only the forerunner of others in the near future, the outcome of which probably will be the early issue through some appropriate channel of a statement dealing with the possible consequences, financial, industrial and political, hanging upon the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the pending cass of the American Tobacco Company and the Standard Oil Company. The former has been argued and is now in the hands of the court; the latter has been advanced and set for argument on March 14.

Subject of Conference.

The immediate subject of last night's conference between the president and Mr. Aldrich was the perfecting the administration's proposed amendments to the interstate commerce law, but the effects of the supreme court's decisions in the tobacco and Standard Oil cases were discussed also to some extent, and will be further discussed after Senator Aldrich's return from New York on Monday, whither he went this morning.

Meantim the president will speak in New York Saturday evening on the subject, it is said, of "Party Pledges and How They Should Be Kept," and he is attempting no concealment or modification of his intention to make the decision of the supreme court the guide of the government's action in regard to corporations charged with violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

He makes it plain to all inquirers that he has in nowise changed his view of what, in his message to congress, he described as his duty and his purpose to investigate the conduct of all trusts, and will not be swerved therefrom by rumors or flurries or other manifestations in "Wall street."

The general impression here is that the proposed federal incorporation law will not be passed at the present session of congress.

Senator Aldrich said today:

"I can conceive of no legislation within the power of congress which can meet this situation; either in anticipation of the supreme court's decision, or subsequent to it."

"Unless, perhaps, the repeal of the Sherman law?" the questioner suggested.

The senator smiled grimly. It was evident that he regarded that as outside the domain of possibility.

Scope of Anti-Trust Cases.

As for the scope of the anti-trust cases before the supreme court, here is what Attorney General Wickersham said in connection with his motion to advance the Standard Oil case to immediate hearing:

"The tobacco case just argued and submitted to this court, and the Standard Oil case, present to the court practicaly the entire range of modern industrial organizations in this coun-

SLAP IN FACE GIVEN COURT BY SENATORS

Supreme Tribunal of the District of Columbia Defied by the Upper House.

SENATORS SUMMONED BUT THEY WON'T OBEY

Body, by Overwhelming Vote, Orders Its Members to Treat With Contempt the Order Issued by Justice Wright—Senator Bacon Shows How Court Has Invaded Legislative Body.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 10.—(Special.)—A highly interesting legal situation is presented as the result of the senate's action today in directing Senators Smoot, Bourne and Fletcher to ignore a summons issuing from the supreme court of the District of Columbia, directing them to appear before Justice Wright tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

These senators are members of the joint congressional committee on printing and are directed to appear and show cause why they should not be enjoined from awarding a printing contract.

The senate has decided that the summons is an illegal and unwarrantable interference with the privileges of the senate, and directed its members to defy the judicial lightning. The legislative department does not want the judicial department interfering with its affairs. Whether Justice Wright will charge the venerable senators with contempt of court remains to be seen.

Bacon Defies Court.

Senator Bacon, in discussing the question, delivered an address on the respective rights and privileges of the three co-ordinate branches of the government.

He said if a court could thus interfere with a committee of congress while engaged in the discharge of legislative duties rightfully entrusted to such committee, the effect would be to make congress subservient to the courts, and congress might then as well cease to exist.

The rights thus challenged, he insisted, were inherent rights and vital to the efficient and proper discharge of the duties of congress, and the congress could not permit a decision on such matters by any other department of the government. If any one had a grievance on matters of national legislation, he showed that the proper course would be to come to congress for relief.

The senate's action is a cool invitation to the supreme court of the district to go as far as it likes. Senator Crawford, in advocating the nonappearance of senators tomorrow, said whatever judgment the court might enter would be beyond its power, because it had no jurisdiction on the subject matter, and that being true, it would make no difference whether there was any appearance or not.

The proceedings grew out of a suit instituted by the Valley Paper Company, of Holyoke, Mass., as the result of the committee's award of a contract for furnishing paper for the government printing office.

Why Senate Is Defiant.

The refusal of the senate was based upon the plea of the constitutional prerogatives of members of congress. The senate took the position that as it was a co-ordinate branch of the government, the court had no right to interfere with its business affairs.

Incidentally the question was raised

RAIDED!

NEGRO CONVICT ATTACKS WOMAN

Mrs. Ellerbee Yields at Point of Gun.

Negro Flees, but Is Chased and Captured --- He Is in Jail at Tampa---Heavy Guard Placed About the Jail to Keep Off Mob.

Tampa, Fla., February 10.—Escaping from a turpentine camp six miles from here, where he was detained as a convict, Roland Flower, a negro, went to the home of Mrs. Jane Ellerbee, a prominently connected white woman, two miles away, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, at the point of a gun forced the frightened woman to submit to an assault.

As soon as the negro left, the woman ran a distance of two miles with no shoes on her feet and but the scant attire the brute had left on her, and gave the alarm.

Negro Is Captured.

Officers from Tampa hastened to the scene, in automobiles, and, securing bloodhounds, were soon on the trail of the negro. Half a hundred men on horseback also took up the chase, but the sheriff's posse was first to sight the fugitive, which probably saved summary punishment being visited on him. When sighted the negro had a gun which he had taken from the Ellerbee home. When commanded to halt, he started to shoot, but the officers fired first, one of the bullets piercing his thigh. Another went through the two barrels of the gun.

The negro was placed in an automobile and hurried to Harney, a small station several miles distant. Anticipating that the roads would be watched by the infuriated citizens, who outnumbered the officers ten to one, the latter took a wide detour and arrived here with their prisoner at 6 o'clock and lodged him safely in jail.

Under Heavy Guard.

He is now under heavy guard and it is hardly probable that any violence will be attempted, for the present at least.

Mrs. Ellerbee tells a story revolting in detail. She was in the yard at the time the negro arrived, and was the only person about the house. The negro asked for a drink of water and permission to sit down and rest. He walked into the house to sit down, and when Mrs. Ellerbee protested, he forced her to go into the house also, pointing a gun, which he found in the house, at her. Forcing her to divest herself of nearly all of her clothing, he accomplished his fiendish purpose. Mrs. Ellerbee is about fifty-four years old and lives with her son in a small farm house.

Flowers admitted going to the house and getting the gun, but denied that he outraged the woman.

Son of Victim Wants Vengeance.

It was announced early tonight that a grown son of Mrs. Ellerbee was at the head of a mob which was proceeding to Tampa for the purpose of attacking the jail and taking the negro out, but up to this hour nothing has materialized. The jail is an unusually strong structure, with high brick walls inclosing it. Sheriff Jackson does not believe it possible for a mob to secure the prisoner if an attempt is made.

The automobile police patrol in which Flowers was being brought to the city ran into a street car on the outskirts of the city and was badly damaged, but was able to proceed to the city.

RODDENBERY IS NAMED AS SUCCESSOR TO GRIGGS

Albany, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—Hon. S. A. Roddenbery, of Thomas, has been nominated for congress to fill the unexpired term of Hon. J. M. Griggs, deceased.

Roddenbery was opposed by Judge Spence, of Mitchell, and Hon. John P. Knight, of Berrien. The returns indicate that Roddenbery will have a majority over both opponents.

Roddenbery carried Clay county by 154 majority, Spence receiving 93 and Knight 7 votes. Baker county goes for Spence, who received 175 votes against 106 for Roddenbery and 16 for Knight. In Calhoun county Roddenbery has a plurality of 35. This is unofficial, but is believed to be accurate.

In the country precincts of Worth the vote seems to be strong for Roddenbery, but returns are still incomplete. Early gives Roddenbery a large majority over both the other candidates.

Spence seems to be running well in the country precincts of Colquitt county, four precincts giving him 128 against 115 for Roddenbery and 21 for Knight.

Berrien county will give Knight an estimated vote of 1,800, with the re-

"DRY" LAW DEAD IN MEMPHIS; EVEN THE COURTS LAUGH AT IT

Memphis, Tenn., February 10.—Replying to a memorial presented by the Law Enforcement League, of Memphis, city and county officials made formal declaration today with regard to certain satutory laws, especially state-wide prohibition.

Embodying his own views and in behalf of members of the municipal commission, Mayor E. H. Crump issued a statement pointing out that Memphis had indicated an opposition to prohibition and, in his opinion, he could accomplish more in enforcing regulative measures and inaugurating municipal improvements than "in striving to secure something I believe is opposed by the great majority of the people of Memphis."

Attorney General J. Z. Estes replied: "If the public sentiment is behind a law it can be enforced. But if the juries do not believe in the enforcement of a law, it cannot be enforced."

Judge John T. Moss, judge of the first criminal court, while assuring the committee presenting the memorial of his sympathy in their endeavors, explained that a judge alone cannot enforce a law.

The memorial was indorsed at a recent mass meeting called by the Law Enforcement League.

LADIES MUST DOFF HATS IN MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

"Take off your hats, ladies, please, when you enter a moving picture show."

This is now a city law, and if you do not, the police will arrest you.

The general council yesterday afternoon adopted an ordinance making it unlawful for any lady to wear her hat when attending any sort of a theater, and it included the moving picture shows.

The ordinance was the result of a visit to a moving picture show by Alderman Hancock and Councilman Johnston.

When the law came up for discussion by council, Alderman Hancock said that he could not see a single thing for the big hats.

Councilman Johnston said he couldn't see a "blooming thing."

Councilman Minor said he would like to see the ladies remove their hats in church, as he had failed to see his preacher for several months.

The vote for the adoption of the ordinance was unanimous.

COLD STORAGE BEEFSTEAK POISONS ENTIRE FAMILY

Peoria, Ill., February 10.—Wholesale poisoning resulting from eating beefsteak presumably of the cold storage variety and soup made from a "fresh" soup bone, came near causing the death of five members of the family of John Rush, an employee of a local brewing company. Of six members of the family, one, Mrs. John Rush, who was ill in bed with a bad cold and did not eat of the soup or beefsteak, escaped. George Rush is still dangerously ill. The symptoms are of ptomaine poisoning, or a type of poisoning simulating typhoid. The health department has secured samples of the meat, which are now being analyzed.

FOR LIVES OF 300 MINERS ONLY $300,00 IS OFFERED

Cherry, Ills., February 10.—Surviving relatives of the nearly three hundred miners killed in the St. Paul mine are tonight discussing an effort by the St. Paul Coal Company to settle out of court all damage suits resulting from last November's mine fire. The proposal for settlements was brought to Cherry today by State's Attorney Eckert, of Bureau county.

It is proposed to pay a minimum sum of $800 to relatives of unmarried men, and a maximum amount of $1,200 to widows with six or more children, the money to be paid immediately the interested persons sign a quit claim receipt. It was announced to those sounded on the subject that the company was not guilty of any criminal negligence; that, as its capital was only $350,000, it could not be held for more than that amount, and that the present offer was made to avoid the delay of litigation.

It is planned by the St Paul Coal Company, it was announced, to mortgage the Cherry mine for $300,000 to pay the damages contemplated under the company's proposal of settlement. Heirs of rescuers who died in their attempt to save lives of miners would also share in the settlement money. A mass meeting of those concerned will probably be called.

LOCKED IN EACH OTHER'S ARMS THEY FOUGHT TO VERY DEATH

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 10.—In a bloody duel in the ofice of the "E" street jail, at 5 o'clock this afternoon, G. W. Thomas, a guard on the city street gang, was shot and fatally wounded by Superintendent Matthew Godsey, of the street force. Thomas died at Erlanger hospital two hours after the duel. Godsey is seriously wounded, but will recover.

Standing and all but locked in each other's arms, the two engaged in a pistol duel while Henry Long, night jailer, and two other guards, looked on helpless to stop the combat. The two men shot while standing so close that they were obliged to turn their pistols at right angles. All the bullets entered from the side and went through the body to the other side. Bad blood had existed between the men for some time over the manner of conducting work on the streets.

COTTON SPORTS TO THE RESCUE OF EXCHANGES

Members of New York Exchange Attack Bill to Prohibit Dealing in Futures.

EXCHANGES ARE LAUDED; FARMERS ARE KNOCKED

Cone, a North Carolina Broker, Says There Is More Honesty on the Exchanges Than on the Cotton Farms---Cone Was Frequently Rattled by Questions Asked Him.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 10.—(Special.)—"If the demand for cotton goods picks up within the next sixty days, we will have 20-cent cotton by May," predicted Sol N. Cone, a big cotton broker of Greensboro, N. C., and a member of the New York cotton exchange, in an address before the house committee on agriculture today during the hearing on the bills to prohibit gambling in agricultural products.

Mr. Cone was defending the exchange and the opportunity it afforded cotton factories and mills to hedge their transactions. He said if the exchange was wiped out, the price of cotton would either be fixed in Liverpool or by big cotton merchants like George H. McFadden & Co., who now handle two and one-half million bales a year, and the farmer would be as badly off as ever. He said he believed there was more honesty and fair dealing on the cotton exchange than on the cotton farm.

Cone Became Badly Rattled.

Though he insisted that a hedge represented actual cotton, Mr. Cone became badly rattled when members of the committee persisted in asking questions as to whether or not actual cotton was ever delivered on such exchange contracts. Being gradually led by questions by Representative Lever to describe the closing out of a future contract, and whether or not it was settled on a cash basis or by the actual delivery of the fabric, Mr. Cone came to a full stop and pleaded that members of the exchange present should be allowed to explain those technical details. He said he believed exchanges helped to steady the market and were of benefit to the farmer.

The testimony of Mr. Cone occupied most of the afternoon session. He was first allowed to make his statement uninterrupted, and was then subjected to a stiff cross-examination. Many times when he became seriously entangled in his answers and explanations, Mr. Neville and Mr. Mendelbaum made valiant effort to have him resume his seat, but the witness was kept on the grill.

The above named gentlemen will take the stand tomorrow and explain the working of the exchange.

It is probable that S. T. Hubbard will also make a statement.

Why Texas Abolished Bucket Shops.

At the morning session, D. J. Neill, of Texas, made a statement, telling of the action of Texas in driving out the bucket shops from the state and the function of the Houston and Galveston exchanges in quoting prices. No gambling, he said, was permitted on these exchanges. He said farmer union lodges in twenty-eight states were asking relief from exchange gambling in agricultural products.

T. J. Brooks, who made the opening argument on Tuesday, was recalled to the stand and cross-examined.

Mr. Cone took the stand when the committee resumed its hearing in the afternoon. He said the Brown-Hayne cotton corner was the only successful one he recalled. He paid a tribute to Theodore H. Price as a great merchant, but said, despite his great sagacity and knowledge of the cotton business, he had once or twice gone broke. Patten, who was reported to have made five millions in a cotton deal, was referred to by Mr. Cone as "one of the ablest merchants of the age."

There was an interesting colloquy as to who lost the money that Patten made as a cotton merchant on the New York exchange. Mr. Cone insisted that it was not necessarily lost by anybody. He explained by using an illustration showing the division of risk in the cotton business.

A Beautiful Face

It Is What All Women Desire.

Miss Dora Hensen, 1310 State Street, Racine, Wis., writes that "a beautiful face is what all women desire, but what woman can be beautiful with her face covered with pimples and blotches? You ask 'what can we do to prevent the pimples and blotches appearing on our faces.' Take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will soon give you a clear, soft skin. My mother and brother have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for impure blood, and cannot speak too highly of it."

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. In liquid form or tablets called Sarsatabs.

Parker, delivered yesterday, Mr. Cone said, like most other mill men, he was usually a bear. "Ninety per cent of them are usually bears," he added.

Mr. Cone described himself as a spot cotton dealer, a stockholder in various mills, a member of "all the cotton exchanges of the world," and the handler of over $4,000,000 worth of spot cotton annually.

The sessions today were devoted to closing arguments by the advocates of the proposed legislation to prohibit dealing in futures in the exchanges and boards, and to the argument of Mr. Cone. Former President Hubbard, of the New York cotton exchange, and George W. Neville, of that body, were among the opponents of the measure, while Senator Smith, of South Carolina, and Representatives Burleson of Texas, Hardwick of Georgia and Sims of Tennessee were among the outsiders who occasionally prompted the giving of information.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow, and on February 18 the committee will hear a delegation from the American Association of Grain Exchanges.

When He Sells and Buys.

Mr. Cone said his practice as a large dealer is to sell more heavily when the market is up, and to buy more heavily when the market is going down; that that unusual practice was based on pure calculation, not on luck or chance.

"I do not defend gambling," he explained, "I am an old bachelor; some of you others are married, but I have never even taken that chance. I think this whole matter before the committee is a matter of ethics, and one for the preachers to deal with."

"It was common report recently," suggested Chairman Scott, "that Mr. Patten, of the Chicago exchange, came down to New York and picked $5,000,000 out of the New York cotton market. If that is true, who paid for that profit?"

"Much of that money was lost in both a legitimate and an illegitimate way, as commerce runs," answered Mr. Cone evasively.

"Why is it that such a boon to the cotton trade as a future market," inquired Mr. Scott, "has not evoluted in the iron business, newspaper business, hay, or other lines of industry?"

Mr. Cone did not furnish much information on this point, but declared he would make more money if the exchanges were abolished, although he did not favor any such step. He characterized the mill men as "the worst pessimists I ever knew."

Commission on Cotton Transactions.

Mr. Cone said the commission generally paid on cotton transactions is $15 per one hundred bales, though, because of his large business, he got one-half of the brokerage commission.

"There are, I believe, one hundred million bales of cotton dealt in annually by the New York cotton exchange?" suggested Mr. Scott. Before Mr. Cone could reply, Mr. Neville explained with some feeling:

"With all due deference to this committee, I consider that is a matter of estimate, and there is no way of getting at the figures."

The chairman dropped the subject for the present, his purpose being to show the radical difference between the transaction on "change" and the actual number of bales. Mr. Cone referred to the Galveston exchange as a dead letter, and said that if the future transactions were inhibited, all the exchanges would be dead letters.

"There is more honor in Wall street," he volunteered, "and in Beaver street than there is in the heart of the country."

Barrett Called Home.

Washington, February 10.—(Special.) National President Charles S. Barrett was not present at today's hearing on cotton exchange gambling. He was called home suddenly last night by the receipt of a telegram announcing the serious illness with pneumonia of one of his sons.

Clergyman's Son's Testimonial of Tuberculosis Cure

To neglect a cold, bronchitis, lung trouble or Consumption is dangerous. We all know how prone people are to deny they have Consumption. It is a flattering disease, and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call Consumption by its own dread name—and then—take Eckman's Alterative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. No one need doubt about it—there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

Amenia, N. Y., July 9, 1909.

Gentlemen: Prior to Feb., 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with LaGrippe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 lbs. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alterative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished, and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health, back to 155 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alterative.

OVER 20 PERSONS HURT IN WRECK

Central Switch Engine Strikes Street Car.

Accident Occurred in Chattanooga---Number of Persons Pinned Under Wreckage. Street Car Knocked Many Feet and Demolished.

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 10.—More than twenty persons were injured, none fatally, late this afternoon when a switch engine on the Central of Georgia railway crashed into a Rossville car of the Chattanooga Railway Company, at the intersection of the two lines on Main street.

The street car carried forty-three passengers and but few of them escaped injury of some character. The switch engine struck the center of the heavy car, driving the tender through the steel and wood framework. It was knocked a distance of more than twenty feet and was totally demolished.

A number of persons were pinned under the wreckage and their shrieks for a time gave the accident the appearance of being more serious than it really was.

W. S. Morgan, yard master for the Central of Georgia, who was on the switch engine which struck the car; W. W. Barnes, engineer; T. L. Johnson, fireman, and V. Bailey, the aged crossing watchman, were arrested.

That there were no deaths is considered miraculous by those who witnessed the accident. Every seat on the car was occupied. The switch engine struck the car with enough force to drive the tender through its side and demolish it entirely.

GOVERNMENT IS SEEKING TO RECOVER COAL LANDS

Cases Made to Cancel Titles to 9,500 Acres of Land in Wyoming.

Lander, Wyo., February 10.—Sixty-four defendants in alleged coal land frauds against the government appeared today before the United States land office in this city in cases which have been brought by the government for the cancellation of their titles to coal lands which are said to be the most valuable in the state.

The cases involve 9,500 acres of land, lying in the mineral districts north of Lander, and have been appraised by government experts at $1,500,000.

The government alleges that these lands were filed upon by "dummy" entrymen for the benefit of the Owl Creek Coal Company and the Northwestern Coal Company, which are controlled largely by New York capitalists. The two companies are reported to be associated with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad.

DYNAMITE IS USED TO WRECK POOL ROOM

Well Known "Hanover" Resort Is Almost Completely Destroyed.

Cincinnati, February 10.—The house known as the "Hanover Pool Room," near Lawrenceburg, Ind., was blown up by dynamite tonight.

The building was completely wrecked and the watchman had a narrow escape. The explosion occurred shortly after 10 o'clock and a few minutes previously the young son of the watchman, returning home, saw the bomb with a burning fuse. He ran into the house and awoke his father, who escaped in his night clothes just in time.

The house was well known among the "sporting" fraternity throughout the country. It was understood to be operated by Cincinnati racing men, and last summer was the objective point of numerous excursions.

CANNERS ARE "O. K.'D" BY EXPERT WILEY

He Says They Have Done a Great Service to Humanity.

Atlantic City, N. J., February 10.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the bureau of agriculture, today before the National Canners' Association, declared that "American canners have done great service to humanity by their "care in furnishing pure canned foods," during his address, which was the principal feature of the closing day of the convention.

Dr. Wiley insisted that the people of the country desire quality rather than cheap products, and advised a general standardization of canned goods.

Governor B. M. Fernald, of Maine, another speaker, declared his belief "that the good quality of canned goods taken by Commander Peary to the Arctic regions enabled the discoverer to reach the Pole."

TO CONSOLIDATE MAIL.

Olcott Would Group Third and Fourth-Class Matter.

Washington, February 10.—Representative Olcott, of New York, today introduced a bill proposing to consolidate third and fourth-class mail and designate all of it as third-class matter, to be carried at a rate of 8 cents a pound or 1 cent for each two ounces.

Provision is made where mail originates and does not go outside of a single rural free delivery district, that it may be carried at one-half of the above named rates. The limit of weight of single packages would be increased by the Olcott bill from 4 to 11 pounds.

RODDENBERY WINS SEAT IN CONGRESS

maining 400 divided between the other two candidates.

Decatur is reported to have gone overwhelmingly for Roddenbery.

Spence's majority in Dougherty county will be about 300. Tift county gives Roddenbery a plurality of 271.

Sketch of Roddenbery.

"Judge" Roddenbery, as he is popularly known, was born forty years ago in Decatur county. Shortly after his birth his parents moved to Cairo, then in Thomas county, so that practically his whole life has been spent in that county. He received his education in the common schools of the county, going later to Mercer university at Macon.

After leaving college Judge Rodenbery taught school about two years and was then elected to represent Thomas county in the Georgia legislature. He was only 21 years old when elected to this office and was one of the youngest members ever in the house.

At the expiration of his term in the legislature he returned to Thomasville and studied law, being admitted to the bar there.

In his profession Judge Roddenbery has made a great reputation for himself. He served for two terms as judge of the county court of Thomas and was twice mayor of the town.

In person Judge Roddenbery is rather small and somewhat delicate looking, his appearance gaining for him the nickname of the "Alex Stephens of the Wiregrass." When he gets up to speak before an audience his size and almost boyish appearance are rather disappointing, but they are soon forgotten after listening to him a few minutes. In manner he is most genial and pleasant and in his home life exceedingly hospitable. With his wife and five children Judge Roddenbery occupies a pleasant home on one of the popular residence streets of Thomasville.

Easily Answered.

(Washington Correspondence St. Louis Star.)

"What do they want of an inland waterway along the Atlantic ocean when the ocean is broad and deep enough for commerce?" asked Senator Cummins, of Iowa, in a discussion of projects in which large demands are made upon the treasury. "Because there are votes along the proposed waterway and there are none out in the ocean," replied practical Senator Flint, of California.

SPOONER KNOCKS AND LAUDS TAFT

Former Senator Hates President's Policies, But Likes Him as a Man.

New York, February 10.—With praise for the president and censure for his corporation policies, John C. Spooner, formerly United States senator from Wisconsin, criticised tonight the proposed federal incorporation act before an attentive audience of 500 members of the American Paper and Pulp Association.

"President Taft," said Mr. Spooner, "is one of the noblest men ever placed in high office. He wants to do what is best for the country, but he has a difficult legacy. I don't know how he is to work it out, but I do know that it must not be worked out along lines that will revolutionize the government of this country or violate the constitution.

"As solemnly as if I were speaking under oath, I state the opinion that, under our constitution, congress cannot establish corporations, except for the District of Columbia. It is a new theory that congress may create corporations that can enter a state to do business whether the state wants them or not. Some of the big fellows hail this proposal with delight.

"The business of ninety million people cannot be long prosecuted under government espionage. There are 400,000 corporations in the United States. How many of these can be pointed to as possible violators of the law? I venture to say not more than fifty.

"The trade secrets of business have always been regarded as their own in every country, yet it is thought today that they need to be brought into the archives of the government.

"There has been generated a suspicion of all business associations, but I say there never was a time in this country when the standard among business men was so high as now. The prejudice against corporations is working harm to the business interests of the country."

TYSON IS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Savannah Man Stood High in the Ranks of the I. O. O.F.

Savannah, Ga., February 11.—(Special.)—J. S. Tyson, the grand secretary of the I. O. O. F. of Georgia and grand scribe of the encampment branch of the order, died at his home here at 2:30 o'clock this morning of pneumonia.

The news of Mr. Tyson's death will be received with regret over the entire state. There are few men in Georgia better known, because of his long connection with the order that he has served with such fidelity and zeal.

He became ill on Sunday, and it was necessary to call the family physician on Monday, since which time his condition had been far from satisfactory.

CARNEGIE ATTACKED AS FOE OF RELIGION

Rev. Dr. Burrell Says Iron Master Fosters Antagonism to Christianity.

Chicago, February 10.—Rev. David J. Burrell, pastor of the Marble Collegiate church of New York, in an address before the executive committee of the western section of the Presbyterian Alliance of the World, today attacwed the "Carnegie foundation" as fostering antagonism in religion.

"I have been called to task," he said, "for saying that the biblical instruction in Princeton university has been under the auspices of a man who does not believe in the inspired trustworthiness of the Scripture as the word of God. The same affirmation might be made and still strongly, respecting many of the institutions of learning under avowedly Christian control.

"In my judgment, the Carnegie foundation is the most significant movement of modern times in the interests of agnosticism in general education."

She Wasn't Superstitious.

"Mary, Mary," cried Mrs. Johnson to her maid "what shall I do? I've just had a most dreadful accident and don't know what's going to happen. I've broken my new hand glass, and you know how unlucky it is to break a looking glass. It means seven years' unhappiness."

"Lor', mum," replied Mary, "don't you set no heed on that! Look at me! I'm not fretting, and I've just broken the large pier glass in the drawing room."

MONEY IS GIVEN GEORGIA RIVERS

How State Fares in Waterways Bill.

Although the Measure Carries Only $40,000,000, Georgia Fares Well --- Generous Provisions for the Seventh and Fourth Districts.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 10.—(Special.) In the river and harbor bill to be reported to the house, Representatives Edwards, Brantley, Adamson and Lee, all had pet projects taken care of, although the total appropriation carried will not exceed $40,000,000. Mr. Edwards is a member of the committee, and did good work in urging the Georgia items in the bill upon the attention of the committee.

Although it was conceded that the river and harbor work at Savannah and Brunswick would be carried forward, the generous provisions for the seventh and fourth districts came as a very agreeable surprise to Representatives Lee and Adamson.

Important Georgia Items.

The important items of interest to Georgia are:

Savannah harbor, $400,000.

Savannah river, between Savannah and Augusta, $130,000.

Chattahoochee river, below Columbia, $75,000.

Brunswick harbor, $50,000.

Altamaha, Ocmulgee and Oconee rivers, $125,000.

Ocmulgee river, between Macon and Hawkinsville, $25,000.

Club and Plantation creeks, $20,700.

St. Andrews Bay, Fla., $420,000.

Canal, connecting Chattahoochee river with St. Andrews Bay, $100,000.

Coosa river, $177,500.

Flood protection at Augusta, $125,000.

The Savannah harbor project is to be completed in three years and the $400,000 appropriation is immediately available. This is an additional appropriation for the project.

The Augusta Appropriation.

The appropriation to the city of Augusta is conditioned upon the expenditure by the city itself of $125,000.

The appropriation for Coosa river, at Rome, is divided into three projects. To improve the river between Rome and Lock No. 4, in Alabama, $52,000 is provided.

An appropriation of $75,000 is made to construct a lock and dam near Rome, at Mayos Bar, with a view to completing the project in two years.

For the construction of a lock at Dam No. 4, and the acquisition of a site for Dam No. 5, $50,000 is provided.

Some Additional Items.

Additional items are as follows:

For Sapelo Sound and Harbor, in McIntosh county, $10,000.

The following surveys were provided for in the bill:

Frederica river at Frederica, Ga., with the view to providing protection for that historic point.

Darien harbor, with the view to obtaining a depth of 18 feet across the bar.

Altamaha river, in Liberty and McIntosh counties, to prevent overflows by dykeing.

Satilla river, to the Atlantic coast Line railroad, near Waycross.

Savannah river, 2 miles above city limits, to increase wharfage facilities and improve navigation.

Waterway from Louisville to Savannah, including cut-off or canal from Ogeechee river to Savannah harbor.

The bill authorizes the committee to use government vessels to visit any work in any part of the country for which it has made provisions.

INJUNCTION SUIT IS WON BY E. M. F.

Petition of Studebakers Is Denied by Judge Swan.

Detroit, Mich., February 10.—(Special.)—Judge Swan, sitting in the United States circuit court, southern district of Michigan, at Detroit yesterday, handed down his decision in the case of Studebakers v. the E. M. F. Automobile Company denying the injunction asked for by the Studebakers to restrain the E. M. F. Company from rescinding the sales agreement between the two concerns and marketing its product direct.

This decision is most important in that it finally determines the right of the E. M. F. Company to contract with agents and dealers direct for the sale of the E. M. F. 30 and Flanders 20 automobiles, and confirms the exclusive rights of dealers and agents who have contracted with the E. M. F. company since December 9, when the Studebaker sales contract was rescinded by President Flanders.

Judge Swan's decision has been anxiously awaited for several weeks by hundreds of automobile dealers and agents on whom it is far-reaching in its effect.

Its immediate result will be to compel Studebaker to refund dealers deposits amounting to several hundred thousand dollars which they have been withholding in hopes of forcing the E. M. F. Company, through the suit just decided, to deliver cars through them. Being unable to obtain E. M. F. or Flanders cars, Studebakers will, of course, have no alternative but to cancel all contracts they have made for the sale of these cars either to individual buyers direct or through dealers.

What's a Gentleman?

(From The Woman's Home Companion.)

An exact definition of a gentleman has been tried many times, never perhaps with entirely satisfactory results. Little Sadie had never heard of any of the definitions, but she managed to throw a gleam of light on the subject, albeit one touched with unconscious cynicism. The word was in the spelling lesson, and I said:

"Sadie, what is a gentleman?"

"Please, ma'am," she answered, "a gentleman's a man you don't know very well."

WOMEN

If you have a listless, tired, worn-out feeling, headaches, nervousness, dull aches and pains in your back and hips or a sense of weakness when on your feet, discharges, etc., you can depend upon it that there is a deep-seated disorder at the bottom of your trouble; a derangement that you may never have suspected, or which your family doctor may have completely overlooked.

If the trouble was of such a nature that it attacked your sensitive nerves and gave you severe pain you would perhaps regard it of more importance and seek prompt relief. But do not forget that it is doing you just as much harm and damaging your nervous system as much as though you felt it. It is affecting those nerves which regulate the function of your pelvic organs and doing you more damage than though it caused pain. Such symptoms indicate that something is wrong. Neglect aids the progress of your disease and a breaking down of your health and strength.

Almost every day we are asked to cure the wrecks of neglect and improper treatment. Do not delay what you realize should be done now. Write us at once about your illness. Or if possible call at our office for a personal consultation. Do not have any hesitancy about consulting us; it will be strictly confidential.

Remember, we have had twenty-five years of experience in this special line of work. We can cure most cases at home and save you the unpleasantness of office treatment. We treat hundreds of these difficult cases every year. Our experience is your protection. We also treat all of the ordinary chronic diseases. Consultation free, either in office or by mail. If you cannot call, write for our book on women's diseases and a symptom blank.

The Attitude Toward Yellow Journalism.

A young man just graduated from college, where he had attracted some attention by the cleverness of his pen, was invited to a position on the staff of The New York Journal. Visiting a leading member of the college faculty to say farewell, he mentioned this compliment with not a little pride. In an instant the professor was up in arms, with an earnest protest against his handicapping his whole career by having anything to do with so monstrous an exponent of yellow journalism.

The lad was deeply moved by the good man's outburst, and went home sorrowful. After a night's sleep on it, he resolved to profit by the admonition, and accordingly called upon the editor and asked permission to withdraw his tentative acceptance. In the explanation which followed he inadvertently let slip the name of his adviser. He saw a cynical smile cross the face of Mr. Hearst, who summoned a stenographer, and in his presence dictated a letter to the professor, requesting a 500-word signed article for the next Sunday's issue and inclosing a check for $250. On Sunday the ingenuous youth beheld the article in a conspicuous place on The Journal's editorial page, with the professor's full name appended in large capitals.

Groveton, Texas, February 10.—Fighting in a dark kitchen with a man, whom he believed to be a burglar, S. T. Lockard early today stabbed Carlton Swinney to death with a butcher knife. Upon procuring a light, Lockard found that he had slain one of his best friends. Swinney, who was a prominent citizen, during a temporary fit of insanity, had broken away from his attendants and entered Lockard's home.

The latter was awakened by the screams of his wife and found the intruder leaning over his bed. Lockard grappled with the man and they fought their way to the kitchen, where Lockard secured a knife, which he plunged twice into his antagonist's neck.

FANCY SHOTS MUST TAKE RIDE ON "WATER WAGON"

HARRY VIVIAN NIES AND MISS LEON VIVIAN DU PREECE,
Who are appearing at Orpheum in great shooting act under name "The Two Vivians." Miss Leon repeats the William Tell act at each performance.

"Cut out the booze, get to bed early, take plenty of exercise and keep your nerve" is the advice Harry Vivian would give to man or woman who has ambitions in the shooting line

The Two Vivians, who have been showing some wonderful fancy shooting at the Orpheum this week, had just given a private performance for a few friends, adding several shots, better than the average marksman ever dreams of.

"With pistol or with rifle, you should hold your weapon firmly, but not too tightly, and fire the first time you sight your object. Your chances of hitting it are infinitely better that way than any other.

"Take the most difficult shot Miss Leon Vivian tries, the one of breaking three toy balloons at the same time. She aims at the one nearest the target board and waits until the other two cross it. That is on the third swing.

Vivian has a wonderful array of fancy work. His most difficult feats are those of making a number of shots with blinded sights. Long experience with weapons of every kind and a sort of sixth sense in the way of guesswork enables him to make these shots with ease.

One of his cleverest shots, one he does not show the public, is that of breaking one of the lozenge tablets with a rifle held on his hip, thus preventing any possible sighting.

Practically any of the shots he makes with the rifle he can repeat with the 45 baliber revolver, breaking lozenges with wonderful backward snap shots through the aid of a mirror.

His partner can duplicate the majority of his shots. The exceptions are those which require greater strength of arm than she possesses.

The shooting act is the property of the man. He has tried out a large number of partners, all of whom take the name of Vivian. When one quits for any reason, she usually keeps the name, so he is gradually peopling the country.

His present partner suits him best of all, he says. She is unusually careful in handling her gun, while some of her predecessors let fly careless shots now and then, that was not altogether appreciated.

Few teams of today are so congenial. Their fifteen minutes on the stage is usually a continual kidding match, with honors about even. They have to keep in good humor, however, for both have too many chances at each other to allow disagreements to bob up. He shoots a lozenge out of her fingers; she shoots a little balloon on top of his head.

Miss Vivian is known off the stage as Miss Leon Vivian Du Preece, her father being the president of the International Bricklayers' Union.

That Belittle Public Men of the Country.

Annual Convention of National Editorial Association Convenes in New Orleans With Many Delegates Attending.

New Orleans, February 9.—"There is great danger in the unrestricted belittling and cartooning of our public men and affairs, causing a decrease of respect and deterring many of our best men from entering politics," declared President A. Nevin Pomeroy, of Chambersburg, Pa., in his annual address to the convention of the National Editorial Association. He contended that the "fair, considerate and wholesome newspaper" still predominates.

Editor Josephus Daniels, of The News and Observer, Raleigh, N. C., in an address to the convention, pointed out the important part which the press could play in law enforcement. "The Press, and the Press for Good," was the subject of an address made by Miss Kate Bernard, commissioner of charities of the state of Oklahoma. Miss Bernard declared that newspapers are the greatest factor in the correction of public evils.

Other addresses were delivered by A. E. Winship, editor of The Journal of Education, Boston, Mass.; Seth Brown, editor of The Commercial Union, Chicago, Ill.; J. C. Oswald, editor of The American Printer, New York; E. W. Stephens, of Columbia, Mo., past president of the association, and M. J. Sanders, of New Orleans, who spoke on the subject of waterways improvement.

this county in the primary held Tuesday, is just 25 years of age, and a native of Putnam county.

He is a graduate of the Eatonton High school and entered the sophomore class at the University of Georgia at the age of 15 in knee trousers.

He was prominent in college affairs, being vice president of the senior class and president of the Demosthenian Society, and graduating in 1902 with the degree of bachelor of science, with a class standing of second among those taking that degree: Attorney James K. Jordan, of Atlanta, of the firm of Hines & Jordan, standing first.

Immediately after graduation he received an appointment from the United States bureau of chemistry as chemist to investigate the growing sugar cane in south Georgia for the manufacture of sugar. Finishing this work he returned to Eatonton and was proprietor and manager of the Eatonton Telephone Company for several years and editor of The Eatonton Messenger.

Closing out his interests here to study law, he entered the law school of Harvard university in 1907 and will graduate there in June with the degree of LL.B. He was president of the Cotton Belt States Club of Harvard in 1908.

He was away at the law school at time of election, but got more votes than the three other candidates together. He will be a candidate to succeed himself in the next legislature.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Stubbs.

Postmaster-General Hitchcock reports that the Post-Office Department loses $64,000,000 a year in the business of carrying second-class mail (magazines and periodicals).

There is not a deficit of $17,000,000, as the department alleges, but actually a surplus of more than $10,000,000, when the specific loss on free rural delivery is taken into consideration, and the department's figures of $64,000,000 loss on second-class matter are wrong by more than $60,000,000.

☛ One fact: In the year ended June 30th, 1908, the weight of second-class matter compared to 1907 *de*creased 18,000,000 pounds. The postal expenditures *in*creased $18,000,000. There is something in it besides second-class matter.

BROTHERS ARE KILLED FOR STEALING HOGS

Tampa, Fla., February 10.— Meager details were received here tonight of the killing of Joseph and Mit Hale at Abbott, a small community a short distance from Dade City, by Will Stafford, one of the most prominent farmers in that county.

The two brothers had been charged, it is alleged, with stealing hogs from Mr. Stafford and a quarrel ensued Yesterday afternoon the three met at Abbott. Just how the difficulty which led up to the dual killing started cannot be learned Stafford secured a double barreled gun, however, and killed both of the young men. The bodies were carried to Dade City, where an inquest will be held tomorrow morning.

STARTLER WINS OWNER $10,000

Kid McCoy's Brother in Luck at Jacksonville.

H. H. Selby Backed His Filly Startler at 15 to 1 and She Easily Ran Away From Her Field --- Royal Onyx Beats Booger Red.

Jacksonville, Fla., February 10.—Kid McCoy's brother, H. H. Selby, furnished a surprise here today and incidentally relieved the Moncrief layers of $10,000, when his stalwart filly, Startler, tincanned her field in the opening event at 15 to 1. With the exception of the fourth event, which brought together Booger Red and Royal Onyx, the sport here today was dull and void of class. A heavy track prevailed and the upsets were frequent. Three choices were successful, two of which were quoted at odds on. Summaries:

PRINCETON TRUSTEES SUSTAIN WILSON

Dean West in Embarrassing Position, but May Not Resign.

Princeton, N. J., February 10.—The board of trustees of Princeton University, taking up the graduate college controversy today sustained President Woodrow Wilson's position that no acceptance of a proffered gift shall impair the power of the board of trustees "to control the organization, development and conduct of the graduate work."

Neither Dean Andrew F. West nor President Wilson, conspicuous figures in the dispute relating to the offer of $500,000 by William Cooper Proctor, '83, of Cincinnati, would issue any statement tonight.

The indications are that while the graduate college question has by no means been finally settled, the ideas of Dean West and Mr. Proctor in the matter were disapproved by the committee.

Dean West is in an embarrassing position, but it is believed an amicable adjustment of differences will persuade him not to resign.

SEWANEE FIVE PLAYS ATHLETICS

Tigers Here for Basketball Game Saturday Night.

Tomorrow night at the Atlanta Athletic Club the next basketball game of interest locally will be played. The contesting teams are the Atlanta Athletic Club and the Sewanee Tigers. This game should prove a fast one and a great drawing card in view of the popularity of the Tigers in all branches of sports in Atlanta.

The Tigers have in their line-up some of the most prominent athletes in southern college athletics. There are three football stars in the first water on the team. Faulkinberry, the big All-Southern tackle, is captain and center of the team. Lanier, the greatest half back that ever strode on a gridiron in the south, is playing a forward position, and Johnny Meyers, a half back, baseball player and the greatest all around athlete that Sewanee has ever turned out, is at a guard position.

The Tigers have been working hard at the mountain for the past month. This will be the first game that they have ever played away from home; in fact, it will be the first game that they have played against an outside opponent, but they believe they are going to give a good account of themselves. Coach Braun has been drilling the men thoroughly, and he says that they are fit for the fray.

It can be safely said that the Tigers will walk on the floor tomorrow night in the pink of physical condition, and if they know anything about the game at all the club men are going to have their hands full getting away with the game.

The club men are in good fettle themselves, having recovered from the defeat at the hands of the Columbus team and they are going to try to atone for the Columbus defeat by defeating the Sewanee team. It is a large assignment and there are quite a few people who do not think they will be able to do it.

Miss Lillian Logan, one of the most popular of Atlanta's debutantes, will be sponsor for the local team, and Miss Kathleen Golden, of Columbus, will act in the same capacity for the visitors. Judge and Mrs. Nash Broyles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. King and Mr. and Mrs. Valdemar Gude will be the chaperons for the usual dance that is held after the game as a compliment to the visiting players.

The following is the line-up:

ATLANTA.	Position.	SEWANEE.
Doonan	R. F.	Armes
Jemison	L. F.	Lanier
Atkisson	C.	Faulkinberry (Capt.)
Thornton	R. G.	Myers
Hudson (Capt.)	L. G.	Stone

Joe Bean, of Marist College, will referee the game, and there are none better than Joe in the south.

GEORGE BONHAG HAS THIRTY-ONE RECORDS

Made Them in Competition Last Year---Daniels Holds Swimming Records.

Spalding's Athletic Almanac for 1910 credits George V. Bonhag, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, New York, with no less than thirty-one American running records, thirty of which were made during the season of 1909.

A remarkable coincident is the fact that C. M. Daniels, of the New York Athletic Club, holds practically all the swimming records where an individual alone figures in the competition and was a member in other instances of record-holding relay teams. Daniels holds forty-three records made at various times during the past few years.

Anyone interested in athletics will find the Spalding Athletic Almanac settles many disputed questions.

JOHNNY KLING'S CASE TO BE SETTLED SOON

Ban Johnson Anxious to Have Commission Close Up Matter.

Chicago, February 10.—If President Johnson, of the American League, and member of the national commission, has his way, the case of John Kling, the Cubs' hold-out, will be settled immediately following the scheduled meeting of the two major leagues next Tuesday. Johnson admitted yesterday that the purpose of the special meeting called by Chairman Herrmann, of the national commission, for February 23 was to reach a decision on the application of Kling for reinstatement.

Word has been sent to Herrmann by Johnson requesting that he change the date of the special session so as to settle the fate of Kling as early as possible, and suggested that the commissioners gather at Cincinnati on either February 17 or 18.

DR. LASKER RETAINS CHESS CHAMPIONSHIP

The New York Man Defeats Carl Schlechter, of Vienna.

Berlin, February 10.—Dr. Emanuel Lasker, of New York, retains the title of chess champion of the world. His series of ten games with Carl Schlechter, of Vienna, who challenged him for the title, resulted in equal scores, each winning one game, and eight games being drawn. The final game to decide the championship proved most exciting. It lasted three days, and 71 moves were made. If drawn, Schlechter would have been the champion. A great crowd watched every move with keen interest, and there was an outburst of cheering when Dr. Lasker won. Both players were given an ovation.

Arrangements are proceeding for another match for the championship.

Johnson Clears Self and Dog.

Detroit, Mich., February 10.—Jack Johnson, the champion pugilist, appeared in the circuit court and cleared himself and his bulldog of all charges, and was discharged. The complainant, who alleged that he had been bitten by the dog was asked to exhibit his injuries, and the court decided they were too trivial to prove Johnson's dog a vicious animal.

INTEREST TAKEN IN ESSAY CONTEST

Fans Sending in Good Reasons for Best Player.

With nearly three weeks more before the essay contest being conducted by The Constitution closes, the essay editor is receiving in every mail quite a few essays, all of which are fine pieces of baseball writing. Some of the fans, judging from their letters, know as much about the value of a player to a team as the players themselves.

This contest was started on the last day of last month, and with its first announcement interest was at once aroused in the contest. Since then the fans have been taking a whole-hearted interest in the contest, and the essay editor really enjoys reading the essays that have been mailed in to date.

There are six prizes awarded for the six successful contestants, and any one of them is worth trying for. The first one, though, is naturally the best, and this prize is probably the best one that could be given to a dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan. It is a season pass to the baseball games at Ponce de Leon this season. The pass entitles the holder to witness every game played at Ponce de Leon free of charge. This prize is given by President J. W. Heisman, of the local baseball association.

The second and third prizes are given by Dick Jemison, sporting editor of The Constitution. They are two tickets to the opening game of the season. The fourth, fifth and sixth prizes are one ticket to the last game of the opening series. These three prizes are awarded by President Heisman.

The rules of the contest are: Write on one side of the paper only. Sign your full name and address. Keep all essays within the specified limit of 300 words. Any essay over this figure will be thrown out of the contest. The contest closes March 1. Dick Jemison is sole judge of the contest. Everyone is eligible, and every contestant is permitted to write just as many essays as he or she sees fit. An employee of The Constitution is not eligible.

AT TAMPA.

Tampa, Fla., February 10.—Four favorites won today with two well-played second choices taking the other two events. Claiborne, in the sixth race, was the good thing of the day. PRIZE FIGHTER HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Harry Gilmore Killed Wilkowski in a Bout at Chicago.

Chicago, February 10.—That Alois Wilkowski, 21 years old, was killed by a blow on the head in a prize fight held in the boxing academy of Harry Gilmore, a well-known prize fighter, last Tuesday night, was the verdict rendered today by a coroner's jury. The jury recommended that Joseph McCarthy, Wilkowski's opponent, be held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter. Gilmore and the promoters and seconds of the fight were recommended for prosecution.

Wilkowski engaged in a ten-round bout with McCarthy with eight-ounce gloves. They fought fouriously, it is said, and, after Wilkowski had retired from the ring, he became unconscious. He died at a hospital a day later. The police declared they not only did not know the fight took place, but that they had not been informed of the result of the fight until the next day.

JACK ROBINSON EARNS DECISION

Outboxed Billy West at Monroe A. C. Last Night.

West the Aggressor, but Robinson Landed the Most Clean Licks and Displayed Most Science.

By Dick Jemison.

Jack Robinson, of New York, earned the decision over Billy West, also of New York, at the Monroe Athletic Club in the Steiner-Emery Building on Viaduct Place last night before a record-breaking crowd, and the decision met with the almost unanimous approval of the great crowd.

It was by far the classiest exhibition of boxing that has been put on in Atlanta since the opening of the game here and George Monroe, the little exbantam champion, took another leap into popular favor by last night's card. He promised to deliver the goods to local fans, and it was a large package of the best brand he delivered in the West-Robinson go. In a neat little speech before the main bout he thanked the public for their patronage and assured them of future good bouts.

As I saw the bout, judging from an impartial standpoint, from the ringside, it looked this way: West was the aggressor all the way, bringing the boxing into Robinson's territory, but that was about all that he did. He apparently landed a lot of good blows, judging from the noise, but nine-tenths of the blows he hit were blocked by some portion of Robinson's arm.

Robinson outboxed West all the way. After the first round, when he sized his man up, he stood up and boxed toe to toe with him, giving way only when West in his wild rushes would come at him, sidestepping and hitting his man. It was Robinson's clever side-stepping, his ability to avoid all the telling blows and his landing of three to one as many clean wallops as West that won him the scrap.

There are some who will argue that Robinson had no punch. Admitted. He has no knockout wallop, but he had enough punch last night to straighten West up from his crouch and make him box him standing up, and that was something.

By rounds, as I tallied them, I saw him as follows: First, an even break; second, West's; third, fourth and fifth, Robinson's; sixth, West's; seventh, even; eighth, Robinson's; ninth, West's, and tenth, Robinson's.

Kid Hector, the fighting Greek, again demonstrated his superiority over any boy of his weight in the second preliminary, when he outboxed Young Scotty and sent him down for the count.

Guy Buckles, of New Orleans, challenged the winner of the bout just before its start. He will meet Robinson on Tuesday night at the Monroe Athletic Club. Buckles has another bout in the latter part of the week, hence the change in date.

For Thursday night George Monroe has booked his namesake, Martin Monroe, with Mike Knockemoffski, and this mill should be a classy one.

It was a great night for George Monroe, a grand little boxer and a fine fellow personally, who is conducting the cleanest boxing club in the south, and the large crowd filed out of the hall perfectly satisfied with the evening's decision.

THEATERS

At the Grand.

"The Cat and the Fiddle," the musical extravaganza, will be the attraction at the Grand tonight and Saturday matinee and night.

As the title indicates, the play tells a wonder story, the doings of the people of the mystical Isle of Eye, in connection with some of our own earth beings.

A story as mythical as this will permit of gorgeous scenic illusions, transformation, pretty ballet evolutions, entrancing maidens, much fun and pleasing music, all of which are promised features.

A company of forty people, headed by Charles A. Sellon, who made a distinct hit here last season, and the El Moore Sisters, form the cast.

"The American Idea."

There is said to be much attractiveness and interest in the new musical offering, "The American Idea," George M. Cohan's latest effort, which has set all the country humming and dancing, whistling, singing and laughing, which comes to the Grand Opera house for two evenings and Tuesday matIdea" is sai dto be a sure cure for its first visit here. "The American Idea" is said to be a sure cure for the blues, and a kaleidoscopic picture well worth studying.

At the Orpheum.

Never in the history of the Orpheum have there been any two acts on one bill which will compare with this week's combination of Gus Edwards' "Night Birds," the great singing, scenic creation, and the Two Vivians, the champion sharpshooters. The "Night Birds" are headed by Nellie Brewster, one of vaudeville's cleverest and daintiest singing comediennes, and gets its name from the "Birdie" song, in which the chorus appears as birds on telephone wires. The Two Vivians do about everything that can be done with gun and revolver. Miss Vivian, standing in the balcony, shoots an apple off the head of her partner, lights a match with one shot and extinguishes it with another Next week the famous comedy team of Merrill and Otto will present their skit, "After the Shower."

At the Lyric.

Lovers of musical comedy are enjoying the Sunny Side of Broadway this week at the Lyric, as one of the most enjoyable performances of the season at the theater. Max Bloom, the inimitable comedian, who heads the company, is one of the cleverest in his line that has appeared locally in many moons.

"Strongheart," the American comedy drama which has achieved such a generous measure of success in the three years it has been before the public, will be presented here next week at the Lyric by an exceptionally clever company. The play is full of the atmosphere of college life, and the parts accorded the clever players are ones which are especially suited to them.

Majestic Theater.

The proprietors of this popular little theater have been very busy for the past week in remodeling the entire house and have again thrown the doors open to the public. Under the able direction of Mr. O. P. Hall, the ever-popular tenor singer, many improvements have been made. Mr. Hall, who has a wide experience in the moving picture business in all its branches, has turned over to the management a theater which for beauty is second to none in the state. Absolutely first run pictures only will be shown, and the patrons of this theater are assured of a first-class show at all times. Mr. Hall will officiate at the piano and also sing the very latest illustrated songs.

At the Empire.

Good music, good dancing and good singing. That's what the Empire is turning out this week. Pate Brothers, in their musical sketch, are in a class by themselves, and are worth the price of admission alone. "Loretta," the character change artist, is very classy, and should certainly be playing in a higher priced circuit. The Anderson Sisters, in their singing and rope dancing act, are exceedingly good. Burton, the black face comedian, delivers the goods in great shape.

This little playhouse is growing more popular every day. The management is sparing no pains or expense to please their patrons, and with moving pictures and illustrated songs, in addition to their regular bill, there is no doubt but that they will make good.

From "Dry" to "Wet."

Charleston, W. Va., February 10.—After having been "dry" for a period of eight months, due to refusal of the city council to renew saloon licenses, West Virginia's state capital is to be "wet" again. The council tonight passed an ordinance providing for licenses to thirty retail liquor houses and ten saloons.

Peary's chief assistant in the latter's successful North Pole quest, today wired from New York his resignation as commander of the steamer Southern Cross, which is scheduled to go to the seal hunting grounds next month. Under the most flattering auspices, and backed by some of the strongest men in the country, the National Cotton and Cotton Products Association was formally launched in the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel yesterday when the following list of able officers was unanimously elected for the ensuing year:

President, A. M. Soule, president Georgia Agricultural College; vice presidents, Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, Union City, Ga.; B. F. Taylor, vice president of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association, Columbia, S. C.; Lawrence McRae, manufacturer, Winston-Salem, N. C.; W. B. Browner, farmer, Jacksonville, Fla.; Charles Barrett, secretary board of agriculture, Guthrie, Okla.; John Thompson, commissioner of agriculture, Nashville, Tenn.; Professor C. J. Roberts, Cape Girardeau, Mo.; H. E. Blackslee, commissioner of agriculture, Jackson, Miss.; J. E. Calvin, ex-president Farmers' Union, Waco, Texas; J. C. Rankin, secretary of board of agriculture, Lexington, Ky.; A. C. Gracey, farmer, Little Rock, Ark.; J. A. Wilkinson, secretary board of agriculture, Montgomery, Ala. Secretary, G. S. Weever; assistant secretary, J. L. Godfrey; treasurer, R. F. Maddox.

Object of the Association.

The object of this far-reaching association is, perhaps, better understood from the wording of the constitution and by-laws which were adopted immediately after the election of officers and which is given as follows:

"The dissemination of information regarding better cultural methods along the lines of diversification, rotation and fertilization, seed selection, crop adaptation, good roads, etc.

"The unifying of the work of various organizations now engaged in helping the cause of agriculture.

"The establishing of closer relations between the grower, the crusher, the manufacturer, the press, the railroads, the educational institutions and commercial bodies that they may harmoniously work, each for the other and for all Dixie.

"The opening up of home and foreign markets through education as to the use and possibilities of cotton and cotton products and other southern agricultural products.

"To encourage the holding of fairs, institutes, extension schools and meetings of various character calculated to promote the betterment of agriculture.

"To aid in the distribution of educational literature in the interest of agriculture.

"To give expression to the work done each year by the association by holding in some large city an exposition devoted to southern products where suitable premiums shall be offered to exhibitors as an inducement for them to enter their best products in competition, thus stimulating and encouraging the farmer to greater efforts.

"The word 'cotton' shall be interpreted to mean not only the raw material, but the multifarious finished products as well, and 'cotton products' shall include not only the seed, but all of the varied by-products of the seed."

Dues of Membership.

The dues of the membership of the association are nominal, being only $1 per annum. It is further specified that the annual meeting of the association shall be held coincident with the National Cotton and Cotton Products Exposition.

From this it is seen that the aims and endeavors of the organization are most thorough and comprehensive, seeking to put forward in the greatest measure the manifold uses and benefits to which not only cotton in its varied forms is put, but also the cotton seed by-products—cotton seed meal, oil, hulls, lint and the various foods and feeds into which these by-products are converted and placed upon the market, at home and abroad.

The speakers during the day, culled from the best in the city, state and south, paid high tribute to King Cotton and gave due praise, as one speaker expressed it, "To his royal consort, Queen Cotton Seed."

From the spontaneous ovation which greeted each of these glowing tributes it would seem that the meeting is more than apt to develop another exposition, which will be of greater and more lasting value to the south than any held in this section in years.

The meeting was attended by a most representative gathering, six of the southern cotton growing states being represented by delegates to the meeting, in addition to the railroad men who came to attend this meeting from all sections of the south.

Leahy, Atlanta; John Hugh McDowell, Nashville, Tenn.

The speeches delivered, both at the morning and afternoon sessions, were both thorough and highly enlightening, and lack of space alone prevents liberal extracts from being presented.

G. S. Weever, who has worked so assiduously on this proposition, had outlined a most diversified program, which was admirably arranged and well carried out.

Following the invocation by Dr. C. B. Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's church, Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of the Georgia School of Technology, called the meeting formally to order.

Secretary Weever was introduced, and briefly outlined the plans and scope of the proposed organization. He enthused his hearers with the splendid possibilities, and the meeting was opened with an enthusiasm which continued throughout the day. Dr. Matheson, presiding, had a happy introduction for each speaker.

Mayor Robert F. Maddox was the first speaker. In a characteristically happy speech he gave welcome to the delegates to the convention, laying special stress upon the presence of the railroad men, and stating how much their cooperation meant to any undertaking. He was roundly applauded as he concluded.

Speaking Begins.

C. H. Poe, editor of The Progressive Farmer, a farm journal of national prominence, delivered a splendid address on "A Platform of Rural Progress for the South."

Hon. Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Educative and Cooperative Union of America, was next on the program for a speech on "Our Farmer," but business in Washington prevented him from being present. Former Governor Hoke Smith spoke on "What We Are Here For." He declared that the answer was clear, "for the spirit of progress fills the heart and mind. We want to rank first in all that goes to build up this section of the country, commercially, morally and spiritually. God has given the south the greatest resources of any section of the United States, and we want to build up the greatest part of the best country in the world, and this can be done only through cooperation."

He pointed out that southern land was less expensive than western, and could produce more per acre. He pointed out how cotton seed oil compopund was supplanting lard, and how cotton seed oil was coming back from Europe as olive oil, two by-products in which the south was practically supreme. His speech was roundly applauded.

Dr. A. M. Soule, afterwards elected president of the association, delivered an admirable address upon "What Education Is Doing for Agriculture in the South." He is one of the strongest and best friends the southern farmer has, and left before the meeting was over to deliver an address in Macon Thursday night, and from there goes to Americus to resume work with the Itinerant Agricultural college of which he is in charge. His speech was a strong plea for science as applied to agriculture to be used more generally throughout the south, urging that only in this way could the south come fully into its own.

M. V. Richards Speaks.

M. V. Richards, land and industrial agent for the Southern railway, spoke on "The Railroad as an Economic Factor in the Development of the South." He pointed out what this system and other southern roads had done and stood ready to do on similar undertakings.

Owing to the absence of Colonel A. D. Allen, president of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association, who was down for an address on "Cotton Oil Industry's Part in the Development of Agriculture," this admirable paper was read to the meeting by Fielding Wallace, president of the Cotton Seed Crushers' Association of Georgia. Colonel Allen advanced some splendid lines of thought, showing how the two great industries—agriculture and the cotton oil mill business were interdependent.

Afternoon Session.

At the afternoon session, F. S. White, agricultural and horticultural commissioner of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, made the opening address upon "The Empire of the South." His talk was the wittiest and one of the most interesting of the session.

W. R. C. Smith, editor "Cotton," the well-known textile periodical, followed on "Gems That Blush Unseen—Undeveloped Opportunities in the South," whose advice, able and concise, if carried out, will soon bring this section into its own.

J. L. Godfrey, of Omaha, Neb., formerly with the National Corn Association, made a speech on "What the National Corn Association Has Done." In this brief and breezy address he told of the brilliant success with which the corn growers of the west had met in their exhibit, and showed how even greater success could easily crown the efforts of the cotton growers and crushers.

C. H. Schmidt, commissioner of immigration for the Rock Island System, who has been connected with this work for forty years, made the concluding talk, elaborating, in detail, upon the possibilities of immigration, and how the south could be enriched by the importation of desirable farmer settlers from Continental Europe.

It was after the usual resolutions were adopted that the perfected organization was adjourned.

Over-Eating Worse Than Starvation

Seven Deaths Arise From This Cause To One of Lack of Food.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

An English medical observer claims that for one death to starvation there are seven from over-eating.

His investigation is appalling and leads one to believe that among the Anglo-Saxon race over-eating is a national crime.

This investigation proves over-eating to be the cause in ten cases out of twelve of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble.

These diseases bring on decay and decline of the other organs and death ensues because of an inability of the system to furnish proper nourishment to the dying and afflicted parts.

When one over-eats, one exhausts the gastric fluids, throws undigested food into the intestines where it creates poison and germ life and is finally absorbed in a putrid state or thrown from the system in a decaying form.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will overcome the ill effects of gluttony and irregular eating. They will digest an abnormal amount of food and will not leave the stomach until everything has been digested.

A single one-grain ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food and in this proportion is seen how even gluttony can be overcome or at least its most harmful effects removed.

Make up your mind to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for one week. Take a tablet after each meal and upon retiring at night. Every druggist carries them in stock; price 50c. If you have a druggist friend ask his opinion. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

LENGTHY LISTS OF LATE TRAINS

Central Had 126 and Coast Line 127 Within a Week.

The railroad commission yesterday received reports from the Central of Georgia Railway Company, the Atlantic Coast Line and the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, of all delayed passenger trains during the week from January 30 to February 5, inclusive.

These reports were received in addition to those of the thirteen other short railroad lines, which came in the day before, and are the first reports made by the larger systems.

During that period the Central of Georgia had 126 delayed trains, which were anywhere from ten minutes to three hours and more behind schedule time. The Central train which lost the greatest amount of time was the Dixie Flyer, which was late every night anywhere from one to two hours, due to delay of the Western and Atlantic connection. Delay of the northbound trains was ascribed to waiting for the Georgia Southern and Florida connection.

The Central also had numerous delays during the week on its southwestern division, the morning train nearly always going late into Albany. On one occasion this train was three hours late, due to waiting for a heavy train on the Columbus division.

During the same period the Atlantic Coast Line had 127 delayed trains. These delays varied anywhere from seven minutes to more than four hours, the latter intance being the Dixie Flyer at Tifton, which was late in arriving from the west. The majority of the Coast Line delays were ascribed to late connections from the east on one hand and from Florida on the other. Both the Central and Coast Line had numerous delays of one hour to two hours.

The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic reported for only three days, February 3 to 5, inclusive, and during that time had eleven late trains, ranging from seven minutes to one hour and five minutes behind schedule time.

The commission has not yet taken up these reports for consideration, and will probably wait until it gets enough of them upon which to base a careful and intelligent study of conditions, together with possible remedies.

What an Edison Phonograph will do for you

Think what it means to have an instrument that will play equally well one of Harry Lauder's rollicking songs or a beautiful aria by Slezak, Martin or Constantino; that will play band music which will make you march, and that will play waltzes and two-steps in a way that will make you dance.

Think of an instrument which such a man as Victor Herbert selects from all others as the one to have his exclusive service and for which his own orchestra plays. That is the Edison Phonograph.

Then consider how small an amount of money will buy one—$12.50 to $200.00—and you will see why no one need be without an Edison Phonograph, just as no one would be who has ever really heard it.

Edison Phonographs	$12.50 to $200.00
Edison Standard Records	.35
Edison Amberol Records (play twice as long)	.50

MOTORMAN IS HURT BY A LUMBER WAGON

L. C. Haynes Is Run Down and Painfully Injured.

L. C. Haynes, a motorman of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, was knocked down and badly hurt by a lumber wagon at Bell and Decatur streets yesterday afternoon about 4 o'colck.

It seems that Haynes was crossing the street and did not notice the approach of the wagon. The wheels struck him to the ground, passing over his legs. The wagon was driven by Hamp Lambert. He was taken to the Grady hospital. His injuries are painful.

$1,350 for Emory.

Eatonton, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—Dr. James E. Dickey, of Emory, who is unusually popular here, preached here Sunday, and at the conclusion of his able sermon took a subscription for the Emory endowment fund. Although the membership is not large, a subscription of $1,350 was soon raised. This amount compares quite favorably with the subscriptions of other churches. Eatonton and Putnam churches are thoroughly in accord with Bishop Candler's views in regard to accepting financial aid from the boards of the north with their customary conditions.

GEORGE WENDLING REACHES ATLANTA

Lecturer Will Speak on Robert E. Lee at Auditorium Tonight.

Dr. George R. Wendling arrived in the city last night, and is at the Piedmont hotel. He is here to deliver his lecture on "Robert E. Lee—the Idol of the South," at the Auditorium this evening under the auspices of the Auditorium Lyceum Course.

It is quite likely that Dr. Wendling will have something to say on this occasion as a reply to the recent attack on General Lee made in the United States senate by Senator Heyburn, of Idaho. He is a loyal son of the north, but has laid upon the tomb of Lee and Jackson wreaths of laurel that will never fade. A musical program by the Fifth Regiment band will precede the lecture. Hon. Hoke Smith will preside.

BIG CRIMINAL WAVE SWEEPING ST. LOUIS

Over Seven Hundred Robberies Reported in Twenty-One Days.

St. Louis, Mo., February 10.—While the police department has been busy for the past three weeks investigating itself because of a shortage of between $17,500 and $25,000 in the Relief Association funds, criminals have been having a merry time. For twenty-one days ending last night, 728 robberies have been entered on the police records. Included in the list of crimes for the period are 149 burglaries, 485 robberies by sneak thieves and 23 highway robberies.

CLEAR HEADED.

Head Bookkeeper Must be Reliable.

The chief bookkeeper in a large business house in one of our great Western cities speaks of the harm coffee did for him:

"My wife and I drank our first cup of Postum a little over two years ago, and we have used it ever since, to the entire exclusion of tea and coffee. It happened in this way:

"About three and a half years ago I had an attack of pneumonia, which left a memento in the shape of dyspepsia, or rather, to speak more correctly, neuralgia of the stomach. My 'cup of cheer' had always been coffee or tea, but I became convinced, after a time, that they aggravated my stomach trouble. I happened to mention the matter to my grocer one day and he suggested that I give Postum a trial.

"Next day it came, but the cook made the mistake of not boiling it sufficiently, and we did not like it much. This was, however, soon remedied, and now we like it so much that we will never change back. Postum, being a food beverage instead of a drug, has been the means of curing my stomach trouble, I verily believe, for I am a well man today and have used no other remedy.

"My work as chief bookkeeper in our company's branch house here is of a very confining nature. During my coffee-drinking days I was subject to nervousness and 'the blues' in addition to my sick spells. These have left me since I began using Postum and I can conscientiously recommend it to those whose work confines them to long hours of severe mental exertion."

"There's a Reason."

Look in pkgs. for the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

"Get out the vote!"

The road builders of Prosperity have the right-of-way.

Glory be, there are not enough ice-mantled poles to provoke a gumdrop trust.

Senator Depew makes more noise running for the senate that he does in it.

Bonds mean business—good health, new life, and a great all-round time for Atlanta.

Nicaragua is always ready to dance, and to read the riot act when the fiddler is to pay.

"Georgia Day" is being celebrated, but it's every day for Georgia in this progressive year.

Now, if prices would only say—"Don't mind if we do," when you ask them to take a drop!

Still, the money spent for the comic valentines you may send to the trust might buy a slice of ham.

Only feature in its favor is that the meat trust may help you to lead the simple life for forty days.

However, Mr. Fairbanks felt quite at home within the down-and-out confines of the crumbled coliseum.

Since we have no tariff war with our old friend, the kaiser, we may continue to keep our troubles in the family.

No need for the weather man to predict a hot June this year: Colonel Roosevelt will arrive in that rosy month.

The Drexel money, placed dollar after dollar, would reach further back into the centuries than the ancestry of the earl.

Considerable criticism of the government by Wall street, but we can't make a change just now for Wall street's benefit.

The Allentown Democrat says Speaker Cannon is afraid of "going to smash." Not so. All he wants is somebody to smash.

The government makes a fine exhibit in the bread-baking department; and it is the political opinion that its pie-counter can't be beat.

Senator Heyburn should wait until the Fourth o' July and follow the flag. It is impossible to raise a hurrah by the waving of the ancient bloody shirt.

The Polar bears had to hunt for cover from the cold in New York, and the icy wind must have beaten the lean Tammany tiger with more stripes.

President Taft is to make a flying trip to Chicago, so they are sweeping graft from the city, and the meat trust men are brushing their best Sunday clothes.

The Washington Post notes that "President Taft calls a spade a spade." Sure. And the rake he has taken to certain trusts is not to be mistaken.

An astronomer says that when the earth passes through the tail of Halley's comet all the animals will be destroyed. But as Roosevelt will get all of them in a few years, what's the difference?

Bailey, of Houston, says it is "so cold that a cocktail will freeze before a shivering citizen can get it within six inches of his mouth." But in that case, a compromise with cracked ice is the juicy alternative.

ATLANTA CONCENTRATES ON THE BONDS.

Upon the throat of disease and death every single organized interest, each large and small element of population in Atlanta, is tightening its strangle-hold.

Duty born of full knowledge of civic crisis calls aloud to the patriotism of all Atlanta.

IN UNPRECEDENTED UNANIMITY OF SENTIMENT AND ACTION FOR THE $3,000,000 MUNICIPAL BOND ISSUE, PATRIOTISM FROM EVERY CLASS IN ATLANTA THUNDERS A QUICK ANSWER.

That fact is convincingly exhibited in the nature of the grand final rally for the bonds at Taft Hall tomorrow evening.

Virtually every civic organization in the city, including the scores of women's organizations, will have representatives on the program.

Men who have labored indefatigably during the whirlwind finish, makers of Atlanta, members of the Chamber of Commerce, members of city council, molders of opinion in organized labor, members of every other organized body that remotely or directly is interested in the city's welfare—this is the composition of the rally tomorrow evening.

Previous crises in the city's history have called forth unity of sentiment and concert of action.

It has remained for the new battle of Greater Atlanta, the battle of the bonds, TO INSPIRE SUCH A CONCENTRATION OF AGGRESSIVE ENDEAVOR AS SETS NEW LIMITS TO THE CIVIC ACHIEVEMENTS OF THIS COMMUNITY.

In itself, the spectacle is sufficient to focus enthusiasm and to give a keener edge to the fighting spirit of every patriotic Atlantan.

And behind the enthusiasm, behind the solid wall of undivided opinion is the obligation resting on every conscientious citizen—

TO DO HIS INDIVIDUAL PART IN GETTING OUT THE VOTE, A FULL, FINAL AND AFFIRMATIVE VOTE, AT THE POLLS NEXT TUESDAY.

KNELL OF THE COTTON GAMBLER.

Southern mill men have joined hands with the organized farmers of the south, and together they are sounding the knell of the cotton gambler.

That is the significance of the spectacle at the recent hearing before the committee on agriculture of the national house of representatives.

While Lewis W. Parker, one of the most prominent mill men of the southern states, was pleading for the elimination of the gambling features of the New York Cotton Exchange, even declaring that the mill men could do business if the exchange were abolished—

T. J. Brooks, representative of the Farmers' Union, was dealing sledge-hammer blows at this gigantic gambling institution, telling members of the committee of the havoc it wrought with the welfare of the producer and of the farce is made of equity in many of its methods and transactions.

Heretofore, defenders of the iniquitous practices of the New York Cotton Exchange have claimed that to tamper with its operation was to threaten the well-being both of the farmer and the spinner.

And now come qualified and expert representatives of each of these interests, not only denying these allegations, but vigorously pleading for reform forthwith "from the outside."

The development is prophetic.

It means that congress can no longer ignore the plea of the men most intimately affected.

It means that, henceforth, if congress discharges its plain duty in the premises, the country will have seen the last of the custom of perverting legitimate barter and trade into a game of juggle and snare, with the farmer, the consumer and, largely, the mill-owner, left with the bag to hold.

The Farmers' Union should feel tremendously encouraged by the events of the last few days. They have set in motion a train of accumulating forces that should speedily crown with success their patient endeavors of the last five years.

GROWING INTEREST IN ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

Considerable disappointment must have come to those who predicted, when the present convict law, placing the entire convict forces of the state upon the public roads, was enacted, that the enthusiasm then shown would be short-lived and, after a year of trial, many counties would drop off the list of road developers.

Two events of the week have not only developed the fallacy of that prediction, but have demonstrated the growing interest in the work and the expanding enthusiasm for better roads.

The splendid representation of Georgia counties at the recent meeting here of the Georgia Federation of Road Authorities, and the spirit shown by the delegates at the meeting, is indicative of the fact that the good roads movement is here both to stay and to grow.

Georgia's county commissioners attend these meetings, not for pleasure, but to learn, though so deep is their interest in the work that the acquirement of beneficial knowledge becomes a pleasure to them.

The federation could not have done better than re-elect as its president Judge W. R. Eve, of Augusta, whose reputation as a builder of roads is not local, but national; a man who not only has the road-building spirit, but the power of communicating it to others.

Every county in Georgia should be represented in these federation meetings; the information and knowledge there gained may mean to them both the attainment of better results and the saving of money through more effective and economical operation.

The other significant incident is announcement of the fact that every one of seventy-five counties which have, so far, made application to the prison commission for convicts for another year is eager for an increase in the number apportioned to it; and not one county which has been using them has declined or will decline to take them again. On the other hand, five counties which are not now using convicts on their roads have asked the commission for their quota beginning April 1, and others will make the same request.

If the commission had twice or three times the number of state convicts at its disposal for road work which it has, it could easily dispose of them to the Georgia counties for work upon the roads.

Georgians need only to get one good taste of the difference between good and bad roads to become inoculated with enthusiasm for the better sort, which speedily becomes demand for more road improvement.

Road construction and road improvement in Georgia have just begun; year after year will witness the attainment of better and better results, until this state ultimately attains one of the best systems of public highways in the entire country.

COTTON PRODUCTS ASSOCIATION.

Organization perfected in Atlanta of the National Cotton and Cotton Products Association has in it the germ of important and valuable achievement in the industrial development of the south.

Attended by delegates from many cotton states and by representatives of almost every branch of industry which has to do with the growing and manufacture of the staple, the result will be to bring these various branches into closer and more harmonious accord.

There should be the closest and heartiest cooperation between all who have to deal with this product—the backbone of the south's wealth and prosperity.

That cooperation and unity of purpose can best be secured through organization and association of the various interests, interchange of views and working plans laid upon the basis of common welfare.

This is the opportunity which confronts the newly organized association.

And that opportunity is doubly reinforced and strengthened in the association's ultimate purpose to arrange and hold in the near future a cotton and cotton products exposition which shall cover every possible phase of the industry.

The time is propitious for such an enterprise as this, and Atlanta, with her strategic position in the center of the cotton belt and easily accessible from all sections, is, pre-eminently, the place.

It is within the power of the Cotton and Cotton Products Association to do splendid service for the south, and there is every indication that it will attain fulfillment of its purpose.

From the nucleus of its organization and with the exposition as a present aim, the association should grow rapidly in scope, numbers and influence, and make for itself a record of achievement in which the whole south will be the beneficiary.

A GOOD COMET TO DODGE.

Professor Edwin Booth, of the University of California, deserves the improvised title of "frightener of adults."

Here is the benignant professor further wracking our peace of mind, already disorganized hopelessly by the problems of the cost of living, spring cleaning and a few other items, by prophesying that the tail of Halley's swift-coming comet will envelop the earth with a deadly gas fatal to all animal life.

How could you do it, professor?

Cruel, thoughtless man, to impose this extra burden, while congress is even now on our hands, and the "Back From Elba" conspiracy, not to mention the Pinchot-Ballinger controversy, sears our souls with misgiving!

We shall, however, endeavor to meet the issue with resigned serenity.

If the price of aeroplanes does not soar or some callous trust get a corner on the cyclone pits, we may anticipate the encounter with reasonable fortitude, if not with positive glee.

The Blizzard and the Blossoms.

The hearts o' all the flowers with anger must be stirred
When the 'blizzard says he's going, and he doesn't keep his word.

He makes believe he goes;
He's fooling every rose;
He makes the lily shiver
As his stormy trumpet blows.

He seems to love the country—the hilltop and the plain;
But he isn't fond of sunshine, and he freezes all the rain.

Oh, he makes believe he goes,
But the very way he knows
To make the lily shiver
And rumple every rose!

The Weather Man Fixed Them.

"The brethren were fooled by the weather man," says a Billville exchange, "and they pulled the picnic too early; but, though they didn't gather any wild violets, they had a fine time skating on the millpond; but when the ice broke with the weight o' the crowd, a hungry alligator, rudely awakened from his winter sleep, came within an ace of swallowing two deacons!"

The Cruel Government.

Here is another wail of a Georgia moonshiner, hard hit by the government:

"I wuz jest a-fixin' fer to take my flight,
But I didn't have my will,
Fer the guvmint come in the dead o' the night
An' took my moonshine 'still!
to 'corner' all the coal in his do-
An' I'll no more fill the bill,
Since the guvmint come in the dead o' the night—
Runnin' off with my moonshine 'still!"

One Editor's View of It.

The editor of The Lexington Intelligencer sees no hope in the trust situation. Hear him:

"Other articles of food, such as eggs, milk and butter, should be included in the boycott. And then all articles of clothing of woolen texture are exorbitant in prices. Let's include them in the list. Cotton and linen goods have responded to the advance in woolens. Add them also and we are reduced to fig leaves. And here we find that even figs pay tariff toll and are controlled by a trust."

"Doubtful."

Ef you could rise ter glory
In dese yer winter days,
You reckon you would ax 'em
Ter make de weather blaze?

Says the Wise One.

If you predict good times, and good times don't come, folks will shrug their shoulders when you pass; and if you predict trouble, and it comes in on schedule time, they'll ride you out o' town on the back of a wild mule. So, what's the use?

All in the Same Fix.

The Lawrence Times tells this one: A reporter was sent to write up a fire in a residence. Going to the door he inquired for the "lady of the house." The maid said she was out. "Are any of the family at home?" inquired the scribe. "No, they are all out," was the reply. "Well, wasn't there a fire here last evening?" "Yes," said the hired girl, "but that's out, too."

Hard Time for Satan.

"Ef a big trust has a soul," says a Georgia philosopher, "Satan will have a mighty hard time of it hereafter, for, the first thing it would do would be to 'corner' all the coal in his dominions!"

SOUTH'S PRESENT PROSPERITY HAD TO COME, SAYS EDMONDS

Macon, Ga., February 10.—(Special.) Owing to a previous engagement, Hon. Richard H. Edmonds, of Baltimore, editor of The Manufacturers' Record, was unable to accept invitation to make a speech before the annual banquet of the Macon chamber of commerce, but his reply to the invitation was read before the banquet, and proved one of the features of the occasion.

Among other things, Mr. Edmonds wrote:

"The south is beginning to feel the cumulative effects of the work which its people have been doing for the last thirty years. The southward trend of men and money, the awakened interest throughout the United States in the resources and possibilities of the south, is not the outcome of any work of the last few years. It is the cumulative work of the last thirty years.

"When about 1880 the south, rising from the wreck and ruin of the war and the reconstruction period, worse in its dire effects than war itself, began the revival of the industrial interests so rudely shattered by that struggle, it aroused the sentimental interests of the country, and to a certain extent sentiment played a large part in southern progress during the next ten years.

"That sentimental side of southern development, however, passed away when the strain came in 1891 and 1892 with the Baring failure and the great depression in cotton which began about that time. This section then had to face a long period of agricultural poverty and industrial stagnation, the latter coming with great severity after the panic of 1893.

Conditions Improved.

"With the coming of higher prices of cotton in 1901 and 1902, agricultural conditions improved. Gradually the farmers found themselves in better financial shape than for years, able to pay off in the aggregate hundreds of millions of mortgage and crop lien indebtedness.

"Then they felt the stimulation which comes with freedom from debt and an increasing bank account. Farm lands which had been depreciating in value gradually began to show a steady increase. In the past nine years the assessed value of property in the south has risen to $9,560,000,000, an amount three times as great as the assessed value in 1880, more than twice as great as the assessed value in 1890, and 80 per cent greater than the assessed value in 1900.

Financial Recognition.

"In the meantime, the great financial forces of the world which had not been seriously affected by the sentimental side of southern development between 1880 and 1890, came more and more to a recognition of the unequalled advantages of the south. Line upon line, and precept upon precept had been making its impression upon the world. The success of southern cotton mills had convinced investors, north as well as south, of the exceptional advantages of the south for cotton manufacturing. The fact that the iron interests of the central south had weathered the tremendous changes which took place in the iron and steel interests of the world by reason of the discovery of the Mesaba ores in the early part of the nineties, and the extreme panicky conditions in iron and steel after 1893, had given to the metallurgical world a higher appreciation than it had ever had of the remarkable advantages of the south for iron and steel production.

"The heavy increase in value which has taken place in coal properties in West Virginia, where, in some places coal lands are selling at $300 or $400 an acre, while five or ten years ago $50 an acre would have been considered extravagant, is only the natural trend of economic development.

"The movement into Alabama of the United States Steel Corporation, backing that section with its almost limitless millions, was merely the culmination of the work which had been going on quietly, but none the less effectively, for many years.

"The wonderful development on Galveston bay, where capitalists who have made the science of transportation on the lakes one of the wonders of modern times, are developing the most comprehensive warehousing system in America, is not the result of recent agitation to attract capital to the south, but is only the fulfillment of the plans laid more than two score years ago by the man who is now carrying out this vast undertaking. Galveston is now doing a foreign trade exceeding by more than $25,000,000 a year the combined foreign trade of all Pacific coast ports.

Harvest Being Reaped.

"Let us not for a moment imagine that anything that the south of itself is now doing, or that other people are doing or have done in the last few years even, should be regarded as responsible for the many changes which are taking place in southern development. The latter day is merely reaping the harvest planted in the former. The momentum now seen everywhere in the movement of population and money southward, and the attention which the south is commanding throughout all parts of the United States and in many parts of Europe, is merely the cumulative effect of thirty years of work.

"The pioneers in the iron development of Alabama, the men who struggled in years past to raise capital for the building of cotton mills in the south, the men who ceaselessly preached the doctrine of diversification of agriculture in order that the whole thought of the south might not be centered upon cotton, the men who led in the building of railroads and in the opening of coal mines, the men who for more than a quarter of a century have struggled—whether selfishly or unselfishly, whether for their own personal gains or for the advancement of this favored land, it matters not—are the men who have done the pioneering work. They plowed the hard ground, they sowed the seed, at times amid discouragement and doubt, but the harvest is in sight, and the rising generation, beginning to reap the riches of this harvest, should recognize that to the work of the pioneers, to the Gunby Jordans, to the Hickmans, to the Gradys, to the Howells, to the DeBardelens, to the Slosses and the thousands of others who, in mine and furnace, in factory and through the press, did a work which has never been surpassed for courage, for devotion, for tireless energy in this or any other land—to these men is due the harvest which we are now beginning to gather.

"Great, indeed, is that harvest to be. It will fill the storehouses of the south to bursting. Wealth greater than has ever been seen in the south, greater than has ever been seen in any part of this land, is coming, and coming with great rapidity.

"The 200,000 western people, who, like a mighty army, are now annually settling in Texas and Florida, are but the advance guard of an army of many times as many who will soon be spreading all over the south.

THE PASSING THRONG

By Smith Clayton.

"Union county has not bought a pound of meat from the outside world in ten years, and, as far as I know, a pound of beef was never shipped into Union county."

Thus spoke C. J. Wellborn, one of north Georgia's prominent lawyers, who lives at Blairsville. Mountain people the world over are famous for their independence, and the yeomanry of north Georgia are no exception to the rule. Men of tremendous energy and the strictest integrity, they are great workers for the good of their section. And the almost universal rule is that they live at home and board at the same place.

It Makes Them Smile.

They can laugh the infamous combinations of capital to scorn, and the scaring prices of the necessaries of life have no more effect upon their sustenance than the big drops from the clouds which glance harmlessly from the wings of the great mountain eagles.

The Old Homestead.

Mr. Wellborn is now living on the lot in Blairsville which has been owned by his family for four generations, and in the house where his grandfather and father, the lamented Judge Wellborn, one of Georgia's ablest and best men, lived before him. Speaking of points of interest in Union, he said that a fine fissure vein of gold has been discovered at Coosa, on Coosa creek, and preparations are now under way to develop it. Experts say that it will yield from $10 to $1,000 to the ton. It was at Coosa, I think, that the first placer gold mining was done in the long ago.

Land of the Speckled Trout.

Union is probably the greatest bird county in Georgia. Wild turkeys abound, and the home of the delicious speckled trout is in her crystal mountain streams. One of the greatest apple counties in Georgia, or the world, it is there that the Mountain Pink, the grand yellow apple, sometimes weighing 2 pounds, grows to perfection.

Hunting hogs many years ago, a citizen of that county came upon a wild apple tree. He grafted it upon a tame yellow apple tree, and then, in perfection, got the better and bigger yellow apple. Two hundred acres in this luscious-flavored fruit has for years yielded, not only a good living, but a fine profit.

How Lands Soar.

"Improved mountain roads," says Mr. Wellborn, "and normal increase of value have greatly appreciated the price of lands in Union. Six years ago a company bought 100,000 acres of fine hardwood timber at $1 an acre. They have refused $10 an acre for this tract."

They Don't Worry.

High prices of living don't worry the people of Union. Mr. Wellborn spoke of a farmer 4 miles below Blairsville who raised 400 bushels of Irish potatoes, 200 of sweet potatoes, 600 of corn, 600 gallons of sorghum; cabbage, peas and other vegetables galore; hogs, beef, etc., in large numbers—everything that a mountain farmer ought to have for self-sustainment. And this is a sample of the object lessons that the farmers of Union are giving the world.

A Gigantic Work.

Mr. S. O. Hawes, a leading merchant of Elberton, told me of a gigantic feature of progress in Elbert county. The Westinghouse company a few years ago bought 15,000 acres over there for $200,000. At Antony shoals, on Broad river, they will construct a great dam, 15 miles below Elberton. They are going to form an enormous lake, extending on the east 7 miles above Elberton, the length being 22 miles, and breadth in proportion. The work on this vast water power, which was delayed by the panic, will now go rapidly forward.

The some company has gotten consent of congress to dam the Savannah river in Elbert county for additional water power purposes. All this means that Elbert is going to be one of the greatest manufacturing counties in the country, through the cheapest form of motive power obtainable.

Telfair to the Fore.

Mr. A. L. Ryalls, the road commissioner of Telfair county, spoke of progress in that fine section.

"Lands," said he, "which ten years ago brought $1 now sell for $20. Where our farmers formerly raised one bale of cotton on two to three acres, they are now raising two to three bales on one acre. Most of them are now raising all their supplies. There has been wonderful improvement in our roads—a grand benefit to the whole county."

He said that great attention is being paid to paper-shell pecans, the best kind grown. They are a fine source of food and profit, selling for $1.25.

Through A. F. Hodges, chairman of the road commission of Sumter county, and Robert Christian, superintendent of roads, some interesting information was obtained about Americus and Sumter county.

A Splendid System.

These gentlemen say that Sumter has the best roads in Georgia. They are certainly among the best. Harry Kohn, of Atlanta, who was automobiling through that section a short time ago, says that he rode over a road out of Americus which for 13½ miles was better even than Peachtree road. Of course, Sumter's superb roads have been a great factor in enhancing property values, as well as transportation and public convenience.

"Lands in Sumter," says Mr. Christain, "have gone up fully 100 per cent in three years, and Sumter county has bought not less than 150 automobiles within twelve months."

That is surely a practical and remarkable tribute to Sumter's road system.

City Life in the Country.

Mr. Hodges said that good lands brought $100 an acre easily. The telephones in the country were a great convenience, and the rural delivery was a wonder-worker in progress.

"Because of these modern features in the country," said he, "rendering the rural life most desirable, already in Sumter many people who had moved to town are moving back to the country. The automobile, of course, is one of the great conveniences of country life. No one will deny that the country when made like a city by modern progress as is being done, will be far more attractive than cities. Conveniences and comforts in the country will solve the problem of people leaving the farms for the towns. In the end they will bring them back."

Americus has about 15,000 people, six banks, and handles upward of 60,000 bales of cotton yearly. She has a fine compress, water, electric lights, paved streets; in a word, is an up-to-date, modern city.

LARGE GOLD MINES BOUGHT BY TABOR

Sold to Ellijay Man by Estate of Col. S. C. Tate.

White Path Gold Mine, in Gilmer County, Sold to Judge T. H. Tabor, the Owner of White Path Springs.

Ellijay, Ga., February 10.—(Special.) A controlling interest in the celebrated White Path gold mine at White Path, in Gilmer county, Georgia, was sold today to T. H. Tabor, of this place, by the executors of the estate of Colonel Stephen C. Tate, late owner of the Georgia Marble Works, and Judge J. C. Allen, of Ellijay, Ga.

The White Path Mineral Springs have long been famous as a summer resort, with many celebrated springs of free stone and mineral water. The waters from these springs were recently analyzed by the state gological survey and pronounced pure. The mountains near by are shown by the maps of the United States geological survey to be more than two thousand feet higher than the railroad station at Asheville, N. C., the mecca of summer resorts, thus insuring cool nights, an invigorating climate and plenty of ozone in the atmosphere.

The gold mines at White Path were discovered by A. B. Holt in 1847. The gold reports of the state geological survey tell of nuggets of gold taken from this mine two of which weighed sixteen hundred pennyweights, worth $1,600. It is reported that more than $2,000,000 have been taken out of this placer mine, although no vein has yet been discovered, which fed this mine.

This property is on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, six miles northeast of Ellijay. A booklet describing this property, containing eight hundred acrs, illustrated by photographs by Edwards & Sons, of Atlanta, will soon be issued and a mining company organized for its development.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS TALK TO MANY FARMERS

Americus Filled With People Attending Itinerant Agricultural School.

Americus, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—Two hundred representative farmers of Sumter and surrounding counties attended today the itinerant school conducted here under auspices of the State Agricultural college. Several lectures upon pertinent farm topics marked proceedings this afternoon. The student body of the Third District Agricultural college attended the proceedings, the cadets, eighty strong, wearing new service uniforms. The institute continues through Saturday.

Killed Man Who Teased Him.

Allentown, Pa., February 10.—George M. Schaeffer, a young man, was hanged in the county jail here today for the murder of Leopold Ermann, an itinerant jewelry salesman, in November, 1908. Schaeffer killed Ermann because the latter teased him about his approaching marriage.

In-Between Profits On Diamonds Saved You

Most jewelers buy diamonds in small lots from jobbers. Naturally, the small dealer who buys in this way is compelled to make his regular profit, and his customers pay the middleman's profits.

With us, on account of our large buying, we purchase direct from the cutters. This saves us from 10 to 15 per cent, which advantage we give you, and still make the same profit the smaller merchant should get.

All of our diamonds are carefully graded according to standard classifications; weights, grades and prices are doubly checked to prevent error, and all this information is plainly marked on a tag attached to the different pieces. Our guarantee is back of the marks, and when you buy a diamond here, you are assured of getting exactly what you pay for.

For twenty-five years the name of Maier & Berkele has been a synonym for HIGH QUALITY. It pays in more ways than one to buy from a house you know to be straightforward, honest and reliable.

KAISER MAKES $10,000 ON REAL ESTATE DEAL

After Holding Three Stores for Three Days He Closes at Fine Profit.

Nat Kaiser, the well-known jeweler, who on Monday closed the trade with Dabney H. Scoville for three stores on West Mitchell street for $100,000, on Thursday sold these same three stores for $110,000, or a clear profit of $10,000 in three days. This is probably the record for advance in Atlanta realty.

The property was sold through E. G. Black, of the E. Rivers Realty Company, to Mr. and Mrs. Drury Powers, Mrs. S. F. O'Keefe and Mrs. W. M. Kilpatrick. The stores in question are Nos. 59, 61 and 63 West Mitchell street. The building is three stories, with a basement, and has a long-time lease to Gans & Co.

W. H. DAVIS, OF BURKE, DIRECTOR OF G. N. & I.

Judge E. H. Callaway Found It Impossible to Serve on Board.

Hon. W. H. Davis, of Burke county, was appointed by Governor Brown yesterday a director of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college at Milledgeville, for the unexpired term of Judge E. H. Callaway, of Augusta, resigned. This term is for six years from January 6, 1910.

Judge Callaway was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Fleming duBignon, at the conclusion of which he was again appointed for a full term of six years. Judge Callaway found, however, that his other duties would conflict with this to such an extent that it would be practically impossible for him to give it proper attention. On this account he tendered his resignation.

Mr. Davis is a well-known Georgian, and has several times represented his county in the legislature. He has also served as solicitor general of his circuit, and will make an able addition to the board.

BOLD BURGLARY IN MACON STORE

Drug Clerk Is Held Up at Point of Pistol.

Riverside Pharmacy at Macon, Only One Block From Southern Depot, Is Robbed in Middle of Day.

Macon, Ga., February 10.—(Special.) M. Griggs, in charge of the Riverside Pharmacy, faced a gun in the hands of a robber, who, with an assistant, held up the drug clerk this afternoon, almost across the street from the Southern depot, at 1 o'clock and went through the place, taking the cash and a considerable quantity of soda checks.

The two men entered the place unmasked and called for a match. As Griggs turned the revolver was thrown on him by one, while the other took what cash he could get from the cash register and money drawers.

The two backed out under cover of the revolver and ran down the river bridge, while Griggs gave a quick alarm. City Detective Tom Jones and a dozen men, standing about the depot, gave chase and the two men dived into the lowlands of the river to escape. With but a short run, they were overtaken and made to surrender without a shot being fired.

They gave their names as J. B. Kimbrell and Jud Hollis, at police barracks, where the officer had them lodged. Kimbrell is well dressed and abcut 18 years of age, while Hollis is not more than 23. They refused to tell where they came from and the police believe they are professionals.

They will face the recorder tomorrow.

VETERANS MUST PAY STATE TAX

Free License Does Not Exempt Them From This Payment.

In the cases of Manus v. the State and Allen v. the State, from the city court of Atlanta, the state court of appeals rendered a decision yesterday holding that the free license granted to confederate veterans to peddle and sell merchandise, by the ordinary of any county under the law providing for such license, does not exempt those veterans who engage in the sale of "near beer" from the payment of the specific tax of $200 imposed by the state upon the sale of this article.

The section of the general tax act imposing this tax specifically prohibits all exemptions, and the tax must be paid by everyone engaging in the business. The convictions in these two cases were affirmed.

HICKS DROPS DEAD AT FRIEND'S SIDE

Was Paying Visit to Sick When Own Death Came.

Traveling Salesman From New York Drops Dead While at Bedside of Friend in Macon. Wife on the Way South.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—Oscar L. Hicks, traveling salesman for the Flat Iron Clothing Company, of New York, a member of the local division of the United Commercial Travelers and a man having scores of friends in this and other Georgia cities, dropped dead at noon today at the bedside of a sick friend, J. B. Moffett, who came to Macon from Lafayette, Ind.

He had called upon his friend at the residence of M. V. Murray on First street and gone to the express office, where he secured a package containing repairs for an invalid's chair and returned to the bedroom. As he opened the package and presented the parts to Mr. Moffett for inspection he fell prostrate and never spoke again. Mrs. Murray was summoned by Mr. Moffett and a hurried call brought Dr. Blalock, but before any assistance could be offered the man was dead. The cause assigned was apoplexy.

For several days Mr. Hicks had been administering to Mr. Moffett. He never passed the house without making a call and this morning he was engaged in seeing that the repairs on the invalid's chair was made, when death came. He was a man of fine health and had reached nearly fifty years. He was a valued traveling salesman and highly esteemed by the local members of the Travelers' Protective Association. He had just made arrangements to go out with his spring stock.

Mrs Hicks was notified at the family home on College street and the remains were taken there. The funeral arrangements will be made for tomorrow. A family and several relatives survive him. The local division of the Travelers' Protective Association will attend the funeral.

CARY'S PETITION IS TURNED DOWN

Charge for Messenger Service Is Allowed to Stand.

The railroad commission yesterday refused the petition of Rev. Clement C. Cary, of 29 Johnson avenue, who requested that body to order a discontinuance of the charge for messenger service in delivering telegrams beyond the mile limit from the office of the telegraph companies within which free delivery service is rendered.

Beyond the mile limit the companies are allowed to charge 15 cents for delivering a telegram. The present charge, however, is only 10 cents, a rate fixed by the company, and which becomes the commission's rate, and cannot be increased without the commission's consent.

The commission reached the conclusion that its rule regarding this charge is just and reasonable, and declined to revoke it.

EXCLUSION MEASURE AIMED AT JAPANESE

Bill of Hayes Is Favorably Reported to the House.

Washington, February 10.—A bill by Representative Hayes, republican, of California, aimed at the exclusion from the United States of the laboring classes of Japanese and other races was reported favorably to the house today by the committee on immigration by a unanimous vote.

At present Japanese immigration is restricted by a mutual agreement between the United States and Japan, by the terms of which Japan has prevented the laboring class from coming to the United States. It has been expected that some exclusion law should be devised to take the place of this agreement.

GIRLS WOULD KNOW HOW TO LAUNCH THEIR BOAT

Governor Brown yesterday received a letter from Miss Alberta Malone, who wrote in the interests of the Georgia girls attending the Meridian Woman's College at Meridian, Miss., stating that they proposed soon to launch a small boat, and they desired to do so with all the ceremonies incident to such occasions when large vessels are sent from the ways into the waters.

Governor Brown referred the letter to Adjutant General A. J. Scott to answer, upon the theory, no doubt, that Georgia having no navy department, the war department was the next best source of information. General Scott says he will give the Georgia girls all the particulars of such ceremonies he can find laid down in the book, but Georgia being a prohibition state, he will substitute a bottle of soda water or some other beverage for the usual "joy water" that is broken and wasted upon the bows of vessels given to the sea.

The table in the dining room was artistic in red and white. The centerpiece was a plateau of red roses, and around it silver candlesticks with red empire shades alternated with silver vases of narcissi. Butler-Walsh.

The wedding of Mrs. Mae Butler, of Montezuma, and Mr. Maurice Walsh, of Cincinnati, was solemnized Monday evening, February 7, at 9:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride. It was a pretty, simple home wedding, with only the most intimate friends of the contracting parties present. Rev. E. H. McGhee performed the ceremony. The bride was most exquisitely gowned, her costume being white satin with overdress of silver-spangled net and pearl trimmings. Her flowers were white carnations. She was attended by a maid of honor, Miss Georgia Lewis, and matron of honor, Mrs. C. D. Gallehee, gowned in white, carrying pink carnations. Palms and ferns, with vases of crimson carnations in the reception hall and pink roses in the living room, were effective decorations, and in the dining room the table was a bright picture in yellow.

Covers were laid for fourteen, and the centerpiece was a Marie Antoinette basket of daffodils, white hyacinths and ferns, the handle tied with yellow tulle. The silver candlesticks had yellow shades, and silver dishes were filled with crystallized tangerines, and the colors, yellow and white, were continued in the details of an elaborate menu. The place cards were valentine water colors.

Mrs. Eckford's gown was also in yellow and white, the yellow satin having an overdress of white lace. Basketball Dance.

The numerous alumni in Atlanta of the University of the South will make the basketball game Saturday night between the Sewanee team and the Atlanta Athletic Club one of the most popular contests of the club series.

A pretty debutante, Miss Lillian Logan, and an attractive visitor, Miss Kathleen Golden, of Columbus, will be sponsors, and the usual informal dance after the game will make a delightful close to the evening's enjoyment.

The Pianist of the Hour.

Busoni, the celebrated pianist, who is one of this winter's sensations in music in America, will be heard in Atlanta at the Grand on March 2, under the auspices of the Atlanta Musical Association.

At each of his appearances this season, he has been compelled to set aside the non-encore rule which prevails with all of the great orchestras. In New York, with the Philharmonic; in Chicago, with the Theodore Thomas; and in St. Paul, with the St. Paul Symphony Orchestra, the insistent and overwhelming applause of the audience has compelled him to acknowledge it by an encore.

Pupils' Recital.

A voice and piano recital will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shivers, 307 Juniper street, Saturday at 3:30. The occasion is given by Mrs. Eugenia P. Clarke in honor of her two seven-year-old pupils, Misses Caroline Walton Shivers and Martine Burnley. The very special feature of the musical program is the two-part work of the dainty little performers.

Ladies' Auxiliary.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet this (Friday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present. The standing committees will be announced, and the vice presidents from the different churches will be elected. Refreshments will be served during the social hour.

Trigg-Huffman.

A wedding of widespread interest in southern society was that of Miss Nannie Lee Trigg, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mr. Lyman Huffman, the wedding taking place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James N. R. Triggs, yesterday morning, Rev. J. A. Baylor officiating.

Witnessing the ceremony were relatives and intimate friends, only, and a wedding breakfast followed the ceremony. The bride wore her traveling costume and the couple left on the afternoon train for an extensive trip west. The bride is a beautiful and gifted young woman, who has frequently visited Atlanta as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Andrew Calhoun.

Middleton-Van Hoose.

The marriage of Miss Pauline Middleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Middleton and Lieutenant George Wolsey Van Hoose, U. S. A., will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Luke's church, Rev. C. B. Wilmer officiating. Judge William T. Newman and Judge Spencer Atkinson will be the ushers, and the friends of the bride and groom-elect are invited to the ceremony. Orders to Lieutenant Van Hoose calling him to the Philippines, necessitated the wedding taking place sooner than was expected and no cards have been issued. The young couple leave on the late afternoon train for San Francisco, sailing from there directly for the Philippines. Miss Middleton will be at home this morning from 11 until 12 o'clock, when she will present Lieutenant Van Hoose to her friends.

Rushton-Huffman.

The marriage of Miss Ella B. Rushton and Mr. Hill Huffman will be an event of social interest on Wednesday next, taking place in the evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. R. E. Rushton, in Ansley Park.

Rev. Dunbar Ogden, of the Central Presbyterian church, will perform the ceremony, and the only attendants will be Miss Alice May Rushton, the bride's sister, maid of honor, and Miss Irene Tift King, her niece, flower girl.

Owing to recent bereavement in the family of the bride, the wedding will be a very quiet one, and there will be present only relatives. The cordial interest of a host of friends, however, will center in the occasion.

Miss Rushton has beauty and the womanly and social charm to win a general admiration, and Mr. Huffman has the traits which make him popular in business and social life.

TRAILING BRIBE PAID TO SOLONS

Conger Uses Brother to Substantiate Story.

Bank Books Introduced to Show That New York Drafts Were Issued--Attorneys for Accused Legislators Try Hard to Destroy Moe's Evidence.

Albany, N. Y., February 10.—The trail of the $6,000 bribe, which the state senate has heard was distributed among three legislators nine years ago by a representative of the bridge building company, led back today to its alleged source in the village of Groton, Tompkins county.

After the attorneys for Senator Jotham P. Allds, whom Senator Benn Conger, of Groton, accuses of having received $1,000 of this fund, had done their best to impugn the character and motives of Conger's chief witness, Hiram G. Moe, Conger put his brother, Jay, on the stand to substantiate Moe's story.

Bank Books in Evidence.

Joy Conger is president of the First National Bank of Groton. When he identified certain books of the bank, the "prosecution" put in evidence entries which showed, first, that on Monday, April 22, Frank Conger, the vice president of the American Bridge Company, drew two checks aggregating $6,650.18, and, second, that the bank issued on Frank Conger's check two New York drafts for $3,000 each, payable to H. G. Moe. Taken with the canceled checks and drafts already put in evidence, their entries constituted the strongest corroboration of Moe's story yet presented.

Jay Conger corroborated Moe's assertion that Moe was authorized to draw checks over his own signature on Frank Conger's account. Allds' attorneys showed how completely the Groton bank was in the control of the Conger family, by having the witness tell that all the six directors were of that name.

Moe on the Rack.

Hiram G. Moe was allowed to leave the stand late this afternoon, after eleven hours of direct cross-examination. The defense had its turn with Moe today, and they left untouched not an incident of his fifty-nine years of life that might weaken the force of his testimony.

In spite of the efforts of Conger and his friends to keep Moe under cover, it became evident that the defense had "shadowed" him with some success when Mr. Littleton made him admit that last night he made a tour of the assembly chamber and its committee rooms—the scene of the alleged bribe delivery—and that this morning Senator Conger had taken him to the house where Conger lived in April, 1901, and where Moe says the $6,000 was distributed into three packages.

DRAMATIC SCENES IN PEONAGE CASE

Montgomery, Ala., February 10.—(Special)—The effort of the government to convict the three Searceys, Lloyd Kellough and Henry Shanks, of brutal enslavement of Wash Gardner, a negro, reached the argument stage today, District Attorney Parsons laying out the government's side. He followed the negro from Crenshaw county to Atlanta, back to Alabama, to Tampa, to Cuba and back, detailing all the alleged cruelties inflicted upon him. His picture of the terrible sufferings of the negro and his fears of death had close attention.

He reached a climax in stating the necessity, as the government saw it, to bring the negro and his family here, and lock them in jail to protect them. Gardner heard the speech with awe.

His long confinement, even though it is only for his safety, is beginning to tell on him, and both he and his wife act as if they were looking for some calamity.

Rebels Take a Town.

Managua, Nicaragua, February 10.—The revolutionists, 1,200 strong, under Generals Chamorro and Masis, captured Matagalpa this morning. Matagalpa has a population of 9,000 people. Matagalpa is about 80 miles in a direct line from Managua.

Hoppe Beats Morningstar.

Cleveland, February 10.—Willie Hoppe defeated Ora Morningstar twice today at 18.2 balk line billiards. The first game was 300 to 99 and the second 400 to 306. Both made several good runs. Hoppe clipped off 120 buttons twice.

TAFT AND ALDRICH CONFER ON TRUSTS

try, and substantially every feature of the so-called 'trust' problem, insofar as it is affected by the Sherman act. . . . It has been the policy of the government to select a few extreme instances of great combinations apparently controlling the greater part of trade and commerce in a particular line of industry, and to make them tests of the full meaning and application of the statute. The Standard Oil case is the most important of all these cases, affecting as it does the widest range of combinations and contracts which may be claimed to offend against the act of congress. Under the circumstances, and as this act, in its general scope, affects an enormous number of business and industrial organizations throughout the country, it is of momentous public importance that this court shall define and apply the act in reference to this character of organization."

Wall Street Is Anxious.

The proverbially delicate relation which "the market," "Wall street" and the financial world generally bear to the news and gossip of the three great branches of the government, make it superfluous to point out the effect which the decisions of the supreme court, one way or the other, in these great cases will certainly have in the field of finance. Almost pathetic is the eagerness with which those here who are in communication with "the market" clutch at every crumb of news or gossip on this subject.

Industrially, as Mr. Wickersham said to the court, practically the whole scope of modern corporate organization is in one way or another involved in these cases; "good trusts" and "bad trusts" apparently have a stake in the affairs. If the court should sustain the judgments of the courts below, it might call for industrial readjustments of far-reaching effect.

Hope the Court May Give Relief.

Political leaders here closely reflecting the minds of leaders of industry, express the more or less vague hope that if the court, should its judgment sustain the government and be hostile to the defendant corporations, it will, in handing down its decision, point out some measure of that relief which, from any point of view, appears outside the possible range of legislation.

Politically the consequences of a decision either way must be momentous—escepially so to the majority party, in the event of the defeat of the government.

"If the trusts win, and congress is helpless to assist in the situation, either way, where are we at?" plaintively asked a republican leader today.

Topic Most Discussed.

This is the topic most discussed in Washington just now. It is the subject uppermost in every quarter. It has thus far been discussed "with the soft pedal," and, as it were, in whispers; but leaders in congress admitted today that it would be impossible much longer to confine it to private conversation. It was discussed last night by the president and Senator Aldrich, and will be further discussed next week.

HOME RULE COMING, ASSERTS REDMOND

Dublin, February 10.—John E. Redmond, who today was reelected president of the National Directory of the United Irish League, made an important announcement of his policy at a banquet given in his honor this evening.

He said they were celebrating the successful campaign for home rule in Ireland and Great Britain. Ireland had now a party of seventy-two members, more united, and therefore more powerful than any Irish party in the past, and never again in their lifetime would men, nominally pledge-bound members of the party, be permitted to discredit their colleagues and thwart the party's policy.

The question of the vote of the house of lords, continued Mr. Redmond, was, for them in Ireland, the question of home rule, and there had been a majority of 120 against the vote and in favor of home rule.

He believed that Mr. Asquith was a man of his word and he would not insult the prime minister by suggesting that he was likely to go back on his home rule declaration. For the government to pass the budget and postpone the veto question was a policy that Ireland could not and would not approve, but if Premier Asquith stood to his pledges, he would have the support of the Irish party.

Girl Burned to Death.

New Orleans, February 10.—Miss Alice Cure, aged 54 years, is dead and her father, Alphonse Meynier, 70 years, is in a precarious condition, as the result of burns sustained tonight. When Miss Cure's clothes were ignited from an open fireplace, Meynier attempted to extinguished the flames.

FOR THE MURDER OF COL. SWOPE

in his incubator with blood taken from a typhoid patient in Kansas City hospital, that it remained absolutely sterile of typhoid and contained no typhoid germs.

After it was decided that the bodies of Colonel Swope and Chrisman Swope should be disinterred, Mr. Paxton and Mrs. Logan Swope recalled Dr. Hyde's insistence that he be permitted to act as physician for the family, although Dr. G. T. Twyman had for years served in that capacity.

Took Capsule and Died.

Dr. Hyde prescribed for Colonel Swope during the latter's illness. The patient was given a digestive capsule on October 3. Twenty minutes later, while reading a newspaper, he went into convulsions. His neck and limbs stiffened and he groaned in great pain. He rallied long enough to say: "I wish I had not taken that medicine."

Then with greater effort the dying man gasped: "I wish I were dead."

He died a few minutes later.

Miss Kellar, a nurse, was alone with Colonel Swope when the convulsions began. She said the patient's face was pale throughout and that she was amazed upon hearing the malady had been diagnosed as apoplexy.

Only two days before, James Hunton, Colonel Swope's cousin and named as an executor of the Swope will, had died of apoplexy in the presence of several persons. In this case there was every symptom of apoplexy.

More Members of Family Attacked.

On December 2 the nurses attending Chrisman Swope, who was being treated for typhoid fever, were surprised when he had convulsions and became unconscious exactly as his uncle had done two months before. Chrisman Swope died December 6.

Miss Margaret Swope, Chrisman's sister, also had convulsions in a milder form. Her illness was diagnosed as typhoid fever.

On December 4 Miss Cora Dickson, governess in the Swope home, and a cousin of Colonel Swope, and a negro servant in the Swope home were both stricken with typhoid fever.

December 5 Steward S. Fleming, of Maury county, Tennessee, nephew of Colonel Swope, who was visiting at the Swope home, was taken ill, typhoid fever being given as the cause.

December 9 Miss Sarah Swope, 14 years old, a niece of Colonel Swope, became ill of typhoid fever, and on December 11, Miss Stella Swope, another niece of Colonel Swope, was also stricken with the same disease.

On December 18 Miss Lucy Lee, daughter of Mrs. Logan Swope, was afflicted with typhoid fever four days after her arrival from Europe. Dr. Hyde had gone to New York, accompanied the young woman home, and had treated her in the early stages of her illness.

Nurses Became Aroused.

The five nurses employed at the Swope home became so aroused by the manifestations in the disease prevailing there that finally they notified Mrs. Swope they would all leave unless another physician be secured. Then Twyman was summoned and resumed his work as the family physician.

Shortly thereafter Dr. Hyde himself was stricken.

Later the body of Chrisman Swope was secretly exhumed and that of Colonel Swope was taken from its tomb. After an autopsy had been held, the stomachs of the two dead men were forwarded to Chicago and analyzed by Drs. Haines, Hektoen and Vaughn.

Dr. Hyde, in a statement made soon after the investigation began, said:

"Colonel Swope died of apoplexy. There is no doubt about it. It was as plain a case of apoplexy as I have ever seen. Colonel Swope was getting old and feeble. He had been sick for more than three months of old age, lack of appetite and senility. Only a few weeks before his death he had had a severe fall.

"Mr. Hunton's death was also due to apoplexy. He had the same symptoms and was affected almost exactly the same as was Colonel Swope."

Sketch of Dr. Hyde.

Dr. Hennett Clarke Hyde is the son of Rev. Dr. G. W. Hyde, a retired Baptist minister of Lexington, Mo. Dr. Hyde was born near Bunceton, Mo., forty years ago. He was graduated from Wentworth Military Academy, Lexington, Mo., in 1889, and then entered University Medical College, Kansas City. After securing his degree he began the practice of medicine here.

Dr. Hyde's name previously figured before the public.

In August, 1897, Dr. Hyde, then police surgeon of Kansas City, was ousted from office because of alleged inhuman treatment of Annie Clements, a negress, who had attempted to commit suicide, and who had come under his care at the police station.

Dr. Hyde's name appeared even more conspicuously in the newspaper in the winter of 1898-99, when he was charged with grave-robbing. At this time Dr. Hyde was demonstrator of anatomy at the University Medical college. The accusation was made by Sam McClain and Charles Perry, negroes, who had been arrested on suspicion. Perry confessed that he and his companion had robbed the grave of Michael Kelly, in St. Mary's cemetery, at Independence, Mo., and sold the body to Dr. Hyde. It developed that many graves around Kansas City had been robbed. Perry admitted these robberies, and again implicated Hyde, who was arrested. The case never came to trial, and was finally dismissed March 4, 1899. Dr. Hyde protested, and said he wanted a complete vindication.

He Wedded Miss Swope Secretly.

In 1905 attention was again directed toward Dr. Hyde when it became known that he had clandestinely married Miss Frances Swope, a niece of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, on June 21, of that year, at Fayetteville, Ark., and against the wishes of her mother, Mrs. Logan O. Swope. As a result of the marriage Dr. Hyde and his wife's family were alienated until a short time ago, when a reconciliation was brought about.

Following the announcement of Dr. Hyde's marriage to Miss Swope, Mrs Sarah H. Frank, of Kansas City, brought suit against Dr. Hyde, asking damages for breach of promise to marry. This case was settled out of court.

Dr. and Mrs. Hyde have a modest home in a fashionable part of the city and move in the best circles. They have no children.

The estate of Colonel Thomas H. Swope was valued at $3,000,000. It consisted of improved Kansas City real estate in the heart of the business section besides much out-of-town property.

During his life Colonel Swope proved himself a great benefactor to Kansas City, where he had amassed his fortune. His most conspicuous gift was Swope Park, 1,354 acres of beautiful wooded land, one of the finest and largest recreation grounds in the middle west.

Swope's Many Heirs.

Ten nephews and nieces survived Colonel Swope at the time his will was filed. Seven were in the family of Mrs. Logan O. Swope, his sister-in-law. At the death of any one of these nephews or nieces, the bequests under the will reverted to the residuary part of the estate and the surviving relatives shared equally in it. Hence by the death of Chrisman Swope his share passed to the residuary estate.

At the death of James Moss Hunton, his share also reverted to the estate.

Labor Organizer Assaulted.

Huntington, W. Va., February 10.—A. T. Deck, of Wellston, Ohio, an organizer for the United Mine Workers of America, is in a dying condition at the Ackendree hospital here, the result of injuries inflicted by a band of miners at Loup Creek, who are said to be opposed to the organization. Deck has been endeavoring to organize the miners of West Virginia, and for several weeks has been working in the vicinity of Loup Creek.

SENATORS SLAP COURT IN FACE

as to whether Justice Wright was in contempt of the senate, or whether the senate was in contempt of Justice Wright.

Senator Nelson sought to have the resolution adopted by the senate so amended as to permit the senators to appear only for the purpose of testing the court's jurisdiction, and in doing so, said that if the recommendation of the judiciary committee was correct, Justice Wright might be called before the senate for contempt.

The Nelson amendment was voted down, 14 to 45, the original committee resolution being adopted without division, as was another resolution directing the secretary of the senate to communicate the views of the senate to the court.

The House Divided.

In the house there was greater division of opinion as to whether in this particular case the court was authorized to summon its members. The judiciary committee brought in two reports. The majority report recommended a compliance with the summons of the court on the ground that the committee was not summoned as members of congress, but while acting under the authority of a statute enacted by congress.

The majority, therefore, recommended that Messrs. Cooper of Pennsylvania, Sturgiss of West Virginia, and Finley of South Carolina, be instructed to appear in court.

The minority report, in which Chairman Parker joined Mr. Clayton of Alabama, and Mr. Henry of Texas, took the opposite view, claiming that the joint committee was acting in a legislative capacity. They recommended that the committee be instructed not to respond to the summons.

Clayton Attacks Court.

In addition to joining in the minority report, Representative Clayton, of Alabama, offered a resolution, declaring that the district supreme court "had unlawfully invaded the constitutional privileges of the house;" that it was without jurisdiction to hale into court members of the house, and instructing such members to ignore the summons of the court.

An extended debate upon these reports followed their presentation to the house and a night session was held to settle the matter. The house finally adopted the majority report of the judiciary committee, recommending that the house members of the joint committee on printing obey the summons of the district supreme court to appear before it in mandamus proceeding tomorrow. The house adjourned at 11:45 p. m.

Aldermen Hiding Out.

Little Rock, Ark., February 10.—Efforts of the police to secure the seven "insurgent" members of the city council failed tonight when the council met with only eight members present again. The seven members left a unique note, explaining that they had been called out of town on business. Their absence at the past three meetings has broken up an attempt to elect a new acting mayor.

Bomb Throwing at Chicago.

Chicago, February 10.—Another chapter in the series of Chicago's mysterious bomb-throwings was added tonight when a bomb was exploded in an empty building in North Halsted street, owned by Louis and Julius Frank. The bomb, filled with dynamite, had been put in the building through a hole made in the floor, and had been set off by a fuse which extended outdoors. The windows were shattered, but no one was hurt.

FOUR CONVICTS ESCAPE.

They Burrow to Freedom Out of Mobile Stockade.

Mobile, Ala., February 10.—Four long-term convicts made their escape some time during last night from the county stockade near McDavid, where thirty or forty prisoners are kept at work on the roads. The men burrowed under the stockade, and had evidently been at work on the job for several days. Among the men were H. Williams, Charles Smith and George Edwards, three white men, who were caught here for robbing several stores of revolvers and diamonds and given two years each. No trace has been found of the men.

The Millers Lose.

New Orleans, February 10.—An attack on the constitutionality of the national pure food and drugs act as embodied in exceptions taken by counsel for millers in the so-called "bleached flour" case, proved futile insofar as the decision of the United States district court here goes. Judge Foster early tonight overruled the exceptions, argument on which had extended throughout the day.

THIEVES STOP RANSACKING TO ATTEND ON A SICK MAN

Chicago, February 10.—Two thieves stopped in their work of ransacking a flat yesterday afternoon to wait upon a sick man who was alone in the rooms. They gave him his medicine, took him a glass of water and set it on a chair and then turned his pillow.

The robbers' patient was J. S. McCullough, of 4131 Indiana avenue.

"If you make a noise we will kill you," said one of the thieves. "Now be good and we'll treat you right."

After they had ransacked a bureau in the bedroom, one of the robbers went to another room in quest of valuables and his companion remained with the sick man.

Observing the helplessness of the patient, the burglars volunteered to give him his medicine.

He called his "pal" to bring a glass of water. Some small articles of jewelry were taken by the thieves, who politely bowed themselves out.

FUTILE PLEA MADE BY FORMER QUEEN

Liluokalini Says, However, She Still Hopes to Be Paid for Lands.

Chicago, February 10.—Former Queen Liluokalini, of the Hawaiian islands, left Chicago last night for San Francisco, on her way from Washington to Honolulu after a futile plea to have congress compensate her for the crown lands which were taken from her by the United States at the time of the island revolution in 1893. Her secretary is her only companion on her journey.

"I have not given up hope yet," declared the ex-queen. "The lands which were taken from me are mine, and I believe the United States government will come to some settlement with me. The lands are worth about $12,000,000. What I have lost in money I have gained in the increased popularity among my people. I am still queen in their island."

CUBAN VICE PRESIDENT CHATTANOOGA'S GUEST

Is En Route to New York to Attend Lincoln Anniversary Dinner.

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 10.—Senator Alfredo Zayas, vice president of the Republic of Cuba, accompanied by George M. Bradt, former Chattanoogan, now proprietor of the Havana Post, is the guest of the commercial bodies of Chattanooga today en route to New York to attend the Lincoln anniversary dinner Saturday night.

Senor Zayas was taken to Lookout Mountain, over Chickamauga Park and to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. At the army post he witnessed a drill by the Eleventh cavalry, which was stationed in Cuba two years during the American intervention, preceding the Gomez-Zayas administration. Tonight Zayas will be tendered a dinner and public reception.

JACKSON LAYMEN'S CONVENTION OVER

All Denominations Pledge to Raise Larger Sums for Missions.

Jackson, Miss., February 10.—The concluding session of the laymen's rally, at which almost one thousand delegates have been in attendance for the past three days, was held at the First Baptist church today.

Just prior to adjournment, the body adopted a permanent mission policy for the state, all denominations pledging themselves to raise larger sums for foreign missions.

The principal speaker of the forenoon session was Hon. Joshua Levering, of Baltimore, president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

MISSING MERCHANT MAY BE IN GEORGIA

Mose Cohen, of Dayton, Being Searched For by Friends and Police Authorities.

Dayton, Ohio, February 10.—(Special.)—Mose Cohen, one of the most prominent merchants of this place, disappeared several days ago, and up to this date no trace whatsoever has been discovered of his whereabouts. Police and friends have instituted thorough search without success. It is thought that he may be in some Georgia or Florida town.

LAURA BIGGAR SUED BY AN ANGRY WIFE

Mrs. Hendrick Alleges That the Actress Alienated Affections of Husband.

New York, February 10.—Laura Biggar, the former actress, who has had a spectacular career in the courts, is named as defendant in the suit begun here today by Mrs. Agnes Mary Hendrick to recover $100,000 damages for alleged alienation of the affections of Mrs Hendrick's divorced husband, Dr. Charles C. Hendrick.

Dr. Hendrick and Laura Biggar were indicted for conspiracy in connection with the notorious contest for the $1,000,000 estate of the Pittsburg theatrical manager, Henry M. Bennett, several years ago. Laura Biggar was acquitted and Hendrick was sentenced to two and a half years in prison, but the sentence was never enforced because of a legal technicality. The woman subsequently obtained a $350,000 settlement from the Bennett estate. The Hendricks separated at that time and a divorce resulted.

Neither Dr. Hendrick nor Laura Biggar was in court today. She is in California, it was said, and will not attend the trial. Counsel will submit depositions in her behalf, denying the charges.

SPANISH RADICALS CONTROL THE CABINET

It Is Expected There Will Be Legislation Against the Church.

Madrid, February 10—The assumption of the premiership by Jose Canalejas y Mendes, the radical and anti-clerical, has caused great surprise among the reactionaries, who had assumed that when Moret fell King Alfonso would institute a more moderate rather than a more radical regime.

The impression prevails that the king has outwitted the intriguers by boldly confiding the government to Canalejas for the purpose of giving the country a clear proof of the king's sincerity in the role of a constitutional sovereign.

The revision of the concordat of 1851 and the reduction in the number of religious orders, it is expected, will be features of the new cabinet policy.

DIPLOMATIC SERVICE AND SOUTHERN STATES

Hull Wants to Know if Cotton-Growing Section Is Represented.

Washington, February 10.—A resolution asking the secretary of state to inform the house whether the twelve cotton-growing states have representation in the diplomatic and consular service in the foreign countries that purchase American cotton, particularly the United Kingdom, France and Germany, was introduced today by Representative Hull, of Tennessee.

Dollar for Ordinary Broom.

New Albany, Ind., February 10.—Housewives may within a few months be compelled to pay a dollar for an ordinary broom, is the discouraging prediction of the large manufacturers of this commodity in southern Indiana. Evansville factories are reported to be offering three times the normal price for broom corn and find it an extremely scarce article even at that figure.

SCAPEGOAT SENT TO ATLANTA PEN

Spitzer Says He Suffers For Sins of Sugar Trust.

Man Convicted of Weighing Frauds Asserts That the Trust Deserted Him After He Had Served It Faithfully for Twenty-Nine Years.

New York, February 10.—Oliver Spitzer, former dock superintendent of the American Sugar Refining Company's plant at Williamsburg, was today sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for his part in the recent extensive sugar underweighing frauds.

Spitzer's application for admission to bail pending appeal was denied and arrangements were made to take him today to begin serving his term.

He Was Made Scapegoat.

Spitzer said today:

"The sugar trust made a scapegoat of me. It deserted me absolutely and ruined me after I served it faithfully for twenty-nine years.

"I started with the trust in 1880 as a boy and by industry worked my way up, step by step, until I became superintendent of docks at Williamsburg.

"It has been reported that I was receiving big pay from the trust. As a matter of fact I got a salary of $55 a week. The expenses of this trial have cut into my savings and left me practically a ruined man.

"In the alleged fraud prosecution the government cried for a victim and the sugar trust answered by sacrificing me and four $18-a-week checkers. None of us was guilty of any breach of the law, but somebody had to go to prison to save those 'higher up.'

Never In Scale Houses.

"They say I had knowledge of the alleged manipulation of the scales at the sugar docks. I don't think that I was in the scale houses once during the last fifteen years. I had no occasion to enter them. As to the corset steel said to have been discovered in a hole in a set of scales, I know nothing about it, and seemingly no one else except Parr, who claims to have found it later.

"I am going to Atlanta today because I directed my counsel not to apply for a stay of execution. I did not want to place myself in the same sort of a position as Mr. Morse found himself in. Through stays and legal quibbles he added a year's imprisonment in the Tombs to his sentence.

"I am not saying this because I anticipate that my conviction will be upheld by the courts. On the contrary, on an appeal I expect the convictions to be reversed and a new trial ordered."

BOY'S TALE UNCOVERS POSSIBLE MURDERS

Crimes Are Said to Have Been Committed on Train Over Year Ago.

Lexington, Ky., February 10.—Revelation of probable murder eighteen months ago was made to the police here today by John Self, a boy. Self said that on July 15, 1908, two men were murdered and robbed aboard a circus train en route to Lexington from Morehead, Ky., and the bodies were thrown from the train.

The local police records show that Harry Hamilton, of Toledo, Ohio, was killed by an alleged fall from a train on that date. There is no trace, however, of the second man.

Self said that he was so frightened by the murders that he deserted the circus next day and went to work on a farm.

HUGH M'KEE FILES BOND AS POSTMASTER

THE WEATHER TODAY: A BREATH OF SPRING

The Gopher Has a Sore Arm and Gets Sore at Slappers.

There'll be a slight hint of spring in the atmosphere today unless the official "dope" of Uncle Sam's weather experts goes awry. The official forecast reads, "Fair and slightly warmer," which is said to mean that it'll be pleasant enough to leave overcoats in the office when Atlanta goes to lunch today. The record of the last several nights will also be broken tonight, in all probability, when no ice puts in its appearance.

While much more pleasant than its predecessors, yesterday wasn't exactly ideal. There was a frosty tinge in the atmosphere throughout the day, and in the afternoon heavy clouds helped to keep the temperature down. At 7 o'clock in the morning thermometer registered 4 degrees below freezing, while the maximum reached during the afternoon was in the neighborhood of the 44-degree mark.

"Say!" yelled the Gopher, "can't you keep yer bloomin' mitt off my arm? Didn't know I was vaccinated? Well, don't go round slapping fellows on the left arm in these times of 'alarms and false alarms.' You're liable to get an accidental poke in the jaw all of a sudden and then you'll say the fellow did it for nothing.

"I don't know, but when a guy slaps me on the arm as you did, I feel like if I had it to do over again, I'd take my chances of having smallpox. It wouldn't hurt quite so bad. But, on the other hand, it might make pits all over my face and not kill me, and then where'd I be? Think of the furor it would cause among the ladies if I had to appear in society all marked up. No, after considering the matter, I think it is well I was vaccinated. I might have had the smallpox, got pitted all up, and then had to live to tell the tale. They tell us that there are some things worse than death, and I guess that's one of them."

THAT $10,000 BILL HAS GONE GLIMMERING

It Is Believed Woman, as Agent for Gamblers, Got the Money.

New York, February 10.—Hope of recovering the $10,000 bill lost last week by Benson Lang, a messenger boy, 17 years old, has almost been abandoned by Hornblower & Weeks, the members of the New York stock exchange.

"We believe," said John W. Prentiss, of the firm, today, "that this boy was used as a tool by a woman who was the agent of gamblers, and I am afraid if the bill is ever recovered it will have passed through so many hands that it would be impossible to establish a guilty possession."

Mr. Prentiss admitted that the firm has the number of the bill, though previously this had been denied by the police.

Young Lang was arraigned today and held on another affidavit which alleges suspicion that he committed grand larceny.

NOBLE SCHREIBER BRINGS GREETINGS TO SHRINERS

Noble Harry B. Schreiber, vice chairman of publicity and promotion committee, Jerusalem Temple A. A. O., Nobles of Mystic Shrine, is at the Hotel Piedmont.

Noble Schreiber in speaking of the meet to be held in the Crescent City April 10 to 15, said:

"New Orleans will entertain the Shriners as they never before have been entertained. The various committees in charge of the details are training every effort to make this meet the most novel and enjoyable ever held by the Shrine. I have visited cities from coast to coast and Canada to Mexico, and judging from the amount of enthusiasm expressed by Shriners all over the country the New Orleans meeting will be the largest ever held and at least 50,000 Shriners, their wives and members of their families will attend.

"The carnival parades will be reproduced in 'Shrine style' with subjects apropos to Shrinedom, some with humoresque aspect (the Shrine being the playground of Masonry), and with the parade of 50,000 Shriners in full dress suit and fez, promise to be the greatest display of pageantry ever presented in this country.

"There will be two boat trips, one up and the other down the Mississippi river. Automobile rides to the ancient and historic places and those full of romance of French and Spanish ancestry will be very interesting, as they have been for the tourists who have voted New Orleans the most fascinating city in America. There will be balls and theaters, and not forgetting that Shriners do not feast 'only with their eyes,' there will be banquets with those savory Creole dishes which have as much as anything else brought New Orleans out conspicuously, and a monster oyster roast at West End Park.

"A very large number of ladies and various ladies' patrols will attend, and special features for their entertainment have been arranged.

"New Orleans has a decided advantage in entertaining so large a crowd, in that it has for years cared for large carnival crowds and has ample accommodations to comfortably care for all who will attend. The railroads will have very inviting rates and diversified routes, so there will be no excuse for any Shriner to miss this meet because he cannot secure a camel. It will be well worth while for every Shriner who has the opportunity to make this pilgrimage with his temple to the City of Sunshine and he will be welcomed by the slogan, 'Glad-u-kum.'"

DEMOCRATS LOOKING TO MAYOR GAYNOR

In Missouri They Regard Him as Presidential Timber.

New York, February 10.—Mayor Gaynor is likely presidential timber in the eyes of some Missouri democrats. He received a letter today inviting him to attend a dinner at Springfield, Mo., on April 16, the one hundred and sixty-seventh anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, and the invitation intimates that he is looked on in Missouri as the national leader of democracy for 1912.

The mayor has not yet suggested his assent, but it is understood that arrangements are under way to launch his boom, whether he attends or not. Those acquainted with the movement here say that Colonel Henry Watterson has been asked to propose the toast, "Has New York Another Tilden?" and, that former Judge Augustus Van Wyck has been asked to answer "Yes."

"The people of this section are much interested in the splendid work you are doing for the cause of good government," the invitation reads, "and we will be prepared to give you a cordial and enthusiastic welcome.

"Missouri democrats are already anticipating a victory in 1912, and many are beginning to believe that New York will furnish our national leader."

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON LESS ACTIVE; CLOSE BARELY STEADY

There Was Some Realizing by Buyers of the Day Before. Spot Cotton Higher.

New York, February 10.—The cotton market was less active today and ruled irregular, with prices responding moderately to small orders either way. The close was barely steady at a net decline of 5 to 11 points.

The opening was steady, at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 1 point, some positions being lower in response to disappointing cables, while others were higher on overnight buying orders, of which there were quite a number around the ring, as a result of yesterday's bullish developments. Right after the opening May contracts sold at 15.07, or 3 points net higher and even with the high prices of last Monday, but as soon as early demands had been supplied, the market turned easier. There was a good deal of realizing by yesterday's buyers, and as soon as local professionals saw that long cotton was coming on the market, and that there was no broadening of speculative demand, they took the short side for a turn. Prices sold off to 14.92c for May, in consequence, with the active months, generally, showing a net loss of about 9@12 points. From this level there was a rally on bullish southern spot advices, encouraging trade reports and predictions that the week-end figures would be very bullish, and May contracts sold back to the closing figures of last night, while March seemed to be relatively firm on buying attributed to big Chicago interests, selling a point or so net higher. Later, however, there was a renewal of realizing and local selling and closing prices were only a little up from the lowest on active months. Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to ⅛c higher. Liverpool cables claim that estimates of the Indian crop are being reduced by 250,000 bales. The New York market will be closed on Saturday, Lincoln's birthday, while Liverpool and New Orleans will open as usual.

Receipts at the ports today, 24,457 bales, against 13,348 last week, and 27,390 last year. For the week, 75,000, against 74,521 last week, and 201,892 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 2,354 bales, against 6,544 last year, and at Houston, 3,454, against 10,480 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 15.25c; middling gulf 15.50c. Sales, 3,260.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, February 10.—Spot cotton steady, 1-16 higher; middling 15 1-16; sales on the spot 1,540 bales; to arrive 300; low ordinary 11⅞, nominal; ordinary 12 3-16, nominal; good ordinary 13⅝; strict good ordinary 14 1-16; low middling 14½; strict low middling 14 13-16; middling 15 1-16; strict middling 15¼; good middling 15 7-16; strict good middling 15⅝; middling fair 15¾; middling fair to fair 16⅛; fair 16½, nominal. Receipts 2,354; stock 200,080.

Cotton futures opened quiet and steady, unchanged to 1 point up on the old crop months, and 1 to 5 points off on the new. Liverpool was somewhat better than expected, but the trading of the early market was small in volume. Following the first call, the old crops moved upward 2 to 3 points on cable messages from Liverpool stating that the tendency was to reduce estimates of the East Indian crop by a quarter of a million bales. The weather map was dry and cold, just the reverse of what is wanted in Texas, but the new crops did not take on any strength from it. October selling at 12.98, last night's closing quotation, in the first half hour of trading.

Around the middle of the morning selling increased from both sides, and prices fell off 12 to 14 points from the high levels on the old crops and 8 points on the new. The better feeling in the stock market and the reduction in the Bank of England rate induced buying at the decline and prices recovered to within a point or two of the highest, but selling was persisted in, and at noon the market was dull but steady, at a decline of 6 to 8 points under yesterday's closing. Reports of a continued good inquiry for spots all over the south, light offerings and unseasonable weather conditions in portions of Texas steadied the market at all times.

In the afternoon session the market was dull but steady, with prices during the greater part of the time a few points below yesterday's closing. Bears showed aggressiveness, but prices held steady on the quoting of spots here at an advance of 1-16, and on advances in spot quotations at other southern markets. Exports of 14,450 bales of cotton to the continent reduced the total stock in this port to 200,080 bales, and this caused nervousness of spot shorts, but in the last few minutes of trading bears made a drive at the market and it closed easy at a net loss of 10 to 14 points.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, February 10.—Closing: Cotton, spot, good business done, prices 10 points higher; American middling, fair, 8.60; good middling, 8.32; middling, 8.14; low middling, 8.04; good ordinary, 7.78; ordinary, 7.53. The sales of the day were 12,000 bales, of which 1,000 were for speculation and export, and included 11,300 American. Receipts, 10,000 bales, including 6,800 American. Futures opened firm, and closed quiet.

Argo, Jester & Co.

New York, February 10.—The market today has been narrow and easily affected either way by small orders. Trading has been chiefly in the way of evening up accounts, owing to Saturday being a holiday, and traders unwilling to take any interest over the end of the week. Cables were indifferent and gave no inspirations one way or the other, so that opening prices were practically unchanged from the previous close. After working up a few points, the market turned somewhat easier, under realizing, and some local short selling, but toward the close prices picked up once more on covering. There were no new features. Texas continues to send advices of insufficient rainfalls, and these may presently exert an influence on the market. For the present, however, no one seems to care to assume the burden of carrying prices materially above 15c and it is the general opinion that this task will be left to the trade if accomplished at all. Purchases on strong spots should be avoided.

GRAIN PRICES UP; WHEAT LED ADVANCE

Final Sales of Wheat Made at Highest Point of the Day. Provisions Higher.

Chicago, February 10.—Grain and provisions were strong today, prices advancing all along the line, with wheat leading the grains and pork commanding provisions with a record-making price for May, which touched $22.75.

From the opening, prices in the wheat pit advanced steadily, with only monetary pauses, until the final sales were recorded at nearly the high point of the day, with a net advance of from ¾ to 1¼c. The controlling factor was covering by shorts who sold early in the week. Scattering reports of crop damage in the southwest and foreign cables telling of slightly higher prices in Liverpool were the principal bullish items. May moved up from $1.10¼ to $1.10⅛, the most remote months traveling over a less distance. The close was strong at the high point for July and September, with May at $1.11⅝—1¼c higher than the final figures yesterday.

Corn prices advanced with wheat from similar causes. The advance was from ¾ to 1c, and the close in the distant futures was at the high point. Reports from the corn belt were that country dealers were heading little corn this way. May advanced from 65⅞ to 66⅞. The close was strong, with May at 66¾@66⅞—⅞@1c higher than the final quotation yesterday.

An increased demand for cash oats, coupled with anxiety of shorts to cover, as in the other pits, caused an advance in prices in the oats pit. The gain was narrower than in other grains, the advance being between ¼ and ⅝c. May went up from 46⅜ to 47. Closing prices were from ⅛ to ¼ off from the top. Final figures for May were 46⅞—½@⅝ higher than yesterday's close.

A strong demand for pork ran prices for the May delivery up to $22.75, a record for a number of years. The strength of the grain market had a bullish effect on all provisions, and advances of from 12½ to 32½ were registered in the different products. At the upper levels substantial offerings came late in the day, sagging prices to a close 2½ to 5c higher for lard and ribs, and from 20 to 22½c higher for pork than the final figures yesterday. Closing figures for the May deliveries were: Pork, $22.62½; lard, $12.27½ to $12.30, and ribs, $11.87½ to $11.90.

FINE RECORD MADE BY GEORGIA MIDDY

Cadet Simpson Second in Command at the Naval Academy.

Alston Raymour Simpson, the 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Simpson, of Ft. Gaines, Ga., now a midshipman at the United States Naval academy at Annapolis, will be graduated with highest honors from that institution in June. Although the youngest man in the graduating class, young Simpson was promoted to the position of senior four-striper, second in command of the entire cadet body. He held this position through the mid-term examinations in spite of the fact that he spent six weeks in the hospital in November, and was thus compelled to make up the studies thus missed.

ALFRED RAYMOUR SIMPSON.
Georgia boy who will graduate at the Naval Academy with high honors in June.

Young Simpson was appointed to the naval academy almost fou years ago. At the time he was barely above the age limit at which cadets are admitted. He was then a member of the sophomore class at the University of Georgia, where he was making a most brilliant record. On going to Annapolis, he passed his entrance examinations without trouble, and within a short time was at the head of his class. He passed his first examinations with a most creditable showing, and not once since that time has he failed to rank with the best students in the institution. At the beginning of the term last fall he was promoted to second in command of the cadet battalion, and since that time has held the position against all aspirants therefor.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are well known in Atlanta, as is their son.

LAWS FOR RAILWAYS ARE SO CUMBERSOME

That It Is a Physical Impossibility for the Roads to Obey Them.

Washington, February 10.—"The interstate commerce commission itself could not take control of any single line of railroad in this country and run it according to the laws regulating railroads that are now laid down in this country. It would be impossible. The laws are so cumbersome and burdensome that it is a physical impossibility for the railroads to obey them."

This was the statement of E. B. Pierce, general solicitor for the Rock Island railroad, before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce at today's hearing on the administration railroad bill.

Worms

"Cascarets are certainly fine. I gave a friend one when the doctor was treating him for cancer of the stomach. The next morning he passed four pieces of a tape worm. He then got a boa and in three days he passed a tape-worm 45 feet long. It was Mr. Matt Freck, of Millersburg, Dauphin Co., Pa. I am quite a worker for Cascarets. I use them myself and find them beneficial for most any disease caused by impure blood." Chas. E. Condon, Lewiston, Pa., (Mifflin Co.)

COURT REVERSES ICE CREAM CASE

City Cannot Prohibit Sale of Ice Cream Unless Unhealthy.

The state court of appeals reversed Recorder Broyles yesterday in the case of Rigbers v. the City of Atlanta and held that the city has no right to prohibit by ordinance the sale of ice cream unless it is shown to be deleterious to health.

Under the city milk ordinance the sale of fruit ice cream with less than 10 per cent of butter fats and of plain ice cream with less than 12 per cent of butter fats is prohibited. Mr. Rigbers was convicted in recorder's court of selling ice cream containing slightly less than 10 per cent of butter fats. He offered evidence to show that the ingredients of the cream were pure and that it was in no wise deleterious to health, but this was not admitted by the recorder.

The supreme court holds that this portion of the ordinance relating to ice cream is invalid, as the city has no authority to forbid the sale of ice cream, which is more or less of a luxury, unless it be shown that it contains ingredients which might endanger the health of the person partaking of it.

It is held that even if the city had the right to prescribe what shall be sold as "standard" ice cream, which the court appears to doubt, it would still have no right to prohibit the sale altogether of ice cream coming below the standard, unless it was unsanitary or dangerous to health.

MILLIONAIRE PALMER VISITING IN ATLANTA

Some of the Roads in Georgia Are in Good Condition, He Says.

S. S. Palmer, of New York city, the multi-millionaire president of the New Jersey Zinc Company, a corporation capitalized at $30,000,000, is in the city, the guest of his life-long friend, Captain W. G. Raoul, at his home on Peachtree street.

Mr. Palmer motored to Atlanta from Augusta last week, coming by way of Milledgeville. He reports some of the roads in splendid shape, as a result of the good roads crusade, but others sadly in need of repair. After a few days' visit to Atlanta he went to Mobile and returned to Atlanta Thursday night. He will return by automobile to Augusta today.

Mr. Palmer is one of the rich self-made men of New York. He began his business career in New York as an office boy with the late Moses Taylor. His career upward has been spectacular.

How's Your Stomach?

Undue enlargement of the stomach indicates a dangerous condition. It is often caused by overeating and drinking. The muscles which propel the food to the intestines become weak. The food accumulates, is improperly digested, and the stomach is distended to enormous size. An inactive liver is one of the causes, and constipation and nerve trouble is sure to result.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills give tone to the weak propelling muscles of the stomach and intestines. They produce a natural movement of the bowels and avoid the formation of gas, which, if retained, produces symptoms of self-poisoning.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure constipation as if by magic. They regulate the functions of the liver. If your eyes are clouded without cause, if you have specks and floating objects before your vision, use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills, and get the poisonous elements out of your blood. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

BIG BOND RALLY SATURDAY NIGHT

It Will Close Campaign For City Bonds.

Registration List Shows Total 10,562 Voters --- Third Ward Leads List---Merchants Adopt Important Resolution---Meeting in Eighth Ward Tonight.

The grand and final rally for bonds that will be held at the Auditorium-Armory Saturday night will be the crowning event for the redemption of the city by an issue of bonds to the amount of $3,000,000.

The full program will be arranged today and among the speakers will be the very best talent in the city.

If you want to hear good words for Atlanta and desire to know why bonds should be issued come out Saturday night.

Number of Registered Voters.

Tax Collector A. P. Stewart announced Thursday that 10,562 voters had registered for the bond election, which will be held on February 15. Of this number 537 are negroes. As a two-thirds majority is necessary to make the bonds carry, 7,042 votes must be cast in favor of the bonds if the city is to have the contemplated improvements.

The registration by wards is as follows:

First ward	792
Second ward	1,710
Third ward	1,885
Fourth ward	1,239
Fifth ward	639
Sixth ward	1,739
Seventh ward	800
Eighth ward	795
Ninth ward	696
Tenth ward	267
Total	10,562

The total number of negroes registered amounts to 537 and are distributed in the wards as follows: First, 157; second, 31; third, 74; fourth, 183; fifth, 23; sixth 41; seventh 1; eighth, 3; ninth, 6; tenth, 18.

By Advertising Merchants.

The following resolutions were adopted by the advertising merchants of the city:

"Whereas, The advisory committee of the campaign committee for bonds has learned with great pleasure of the circulation by Mr. S. Weil of an agreement among the advertising merchants of Atlanta, which has been generously signed by a large number of the merchants carrying advertising space in the Atlanta newspapers, by which they have agreed to donate a portion of their advertising space from now until the bond election in advocating the passage of the bond issue. Be it

"Resolved by the advisory committee, That we hereby tender to Mr. Weil and to all the merchants who have so generously signed said agreement our thanks for their generous action.

"Resolved further, That their action is especially gratifying in view of the fact that the campaign committee for bonds has been practically without funds with which to carry on the campaign, having had no funds except such as have been generously donated by passing around the hat among such public-spirited citizens as would contribute and has received only a small amount from any one citizen and barely enough to do a limited amount of stenographic work and pay for a limited amount of printing and postage absolutely necessary. Be it therefore

"Resolved, That the advisory committee asks all public-spirited citizens to cooperate with the committee in every way possible in helping to carry on its work and promoting the publicity of the campaign."

Eighth Ward Club.

The Eighth Ward Club organized to work for the success of the bond issue, to be voted next Tuesday, will hold its final meeting of the campaign tonight at 8 o'clock at Judge Langston's court, corner Tenth and Peachtree streets.

The meeting will be an important one, as final arrangements for getting out the vote in the eighth ward will be made.

All registered voters of the ward are requested to turn out for this meeting.

WOMEN PLAYING BIG PART IN FIGHT FOR BOND ISSUE

Woman's influence is having vigorous expression at present in the matter of the bond movement, and the situation is being watched by people in all sections interested in municipal progress.

"I am waching the Atlanta papers with interest," writes a northern friend, "for I have always believed that the participation of women in public affairs, where the future citizen is involved, is what at present is needed everywhere.

"The bond issue is a good test, and I can not see how such zealous and well-directed effort can fail in purpose.'

Mrs. Woods White receives from twenty-five to thirty letters a day asking for information on the subject, and expressing the desire to cooperate, these letters coming from women of all activities.

Railway Conductors' Auxiliary Acts.

Among the significant reports received by Mrs. White was the following:

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Order of Railway Conductors, the bond issue was unanimously indorsed, and the following resolution adopted:

Resolved, That we, as a body, will do all we can to influence our people to vote for the bonds;

That we think it essential to the upbuilding of our city and the health of our citizens.

MRS. D. T. WALRAVEN,
MRS. J. G. GARWOOD,
MRS. J. M. NASH,
Committee.

Mrs. Walraven Writes.

"Work for one another," writes Mrs. Walraven.

Mrs. W. Woods White, President City Federation Women's Clubs—Dear Madam: I deem it absolutely essential to the welfare and future growth of the city, that necessary water and sewerage systems be extended throughout the city; that the public schools be put in comfortable and sanitary condition, and more schools be erected to meet the demands of progress, and the hospital facilities be increased.

While none of these needs may appeal to many of us personally, we should live to work for one another.

I favor the proposed bond issue, which, if carried, will supply a requisite fund for the urgent needs of the city and at the same time avoid an increase in the tax rate. How can any man oppose anything pertaining to the welfare of our children, who will be our future law-makers and citizens?

For the moral, mental and physical development of our children we should have more playgrounds, proper and sufficient recreation and amusement, which, at this time, is of most vital importance. Sincerely yours,

MRS. D. S. WALRAVEN.

From Associated Charities.

Mrs. Margaret Laing, agent committee of the Associated Charities, writes:

Mrs. W. Woods White, President, City Federation of Women's Clubs, City.—My Dear Mrs. White: Yours of the 8th instant to hand. In reply, I take pleasure in stating some of my reasons for advocating the bond issue:

Atlanta is to get $3,000,000 of permanent improvements, and at the same time to cause that amount of money to be distributed in the community, it gets both the cash and the benefit of it.

The proposed improvements are those which are customarily secured through a bond issue. These improvements will increase in value with their use by more people. Running water, adequate sewerage and clean surroundings are things which all alike need for the sake of their health and comfort. They can be secured individually only after the city has laid the foundation in an adequate system of water and sewerage; and its failure to do so now will condemn a large part of our citizenship to a plane of living which is poor economy for both working man and employer. Very truly yours,

MARGARET LAING,
Agent Committee No. 1, Associated Charities.

Timely Letter from Miss Ray.

Mrs. Woods White, President Federation of Women's Clubs, Atlanta, Ga.—My Dear Mrs. White: I am very glad to join in the bond campaign.

It has been my observation, as an agent of the Associated Charities, that much of our city's poverty and need are caused by sickness which might have been prevented.

Give every family, black and white, pure water and sanitary sewerage; remove these unsightly, ill-smelling and germ-spreading dumping grounds, which are placed in our poorest districts among people whose protest against them is too feeble to be heard, and equip Grady hospital so that it can give the proper care and treatment wherever necessary, and we have struck a hard blow at poverty, and have raised the standard of living in the home. Thus the proposed bond issue has a moral as well as an economic value and importance. Very truly yours,

BESSIE RAY,
Agent Committee No. 2, Associated Charities.

For Better Hospital Facilities.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Presbyterian hospital, the following resolutions were passed:

"Be it resolved, That we heartily indorse the issuance of the bonds, and deem them absolutely necessary to the welfare and growth of our beloved city; that proper water and sewerage systems be installed as soon as possible; the Grady enlarged to meet the demands of poor, suffering humanity, and our public schools made sanitary and new ones built to relieve their crowded condition; that we have confidence in the bond commission, our mayor, who sacrificed much for his city, when he was needed most, and council, and pledge our hearty support to the bond issue and will do our best to induce men who have registered to vote for their best interests—bonds.

"Mrs. Archibald H. Davis, president Ladies' Auxiliary; Mrs. B. C. Davis, secretary Auxiliary; Mrs. George B. Denman, chairman committee on resolutions."

Mrs. Bone Pleads for Schools.

Mrs. W. Woods White, President City Federation of Womans' Clubs, Atlanta. Dear Madam: Replying to your letter of the 7th instant, requesting my reasons, from a personal standpoint, why I favor the bond issue, would say that the issue of bonds will help to improve my own community as well as the whole city-at-large. Our schools are in need of money to make the system more complete, and as the city is growing very fast, we are in dire need of more schools, and for the first ward, in which I live, there can be a great deal of good done by improving some of the streets and sewer system. Under the ordinance, as passed by the council and approved by the mayor, confirming the apportionments by the commission, the first ward will get two new, modern school buildings, and one other to be thoroughly repaired, and also practically a complete water and trunk sewer system. In view of these facts, I think it my duty to do everything I can to help the passage of the issue. Very truly yours,

MRS. WALTER J. BONE.

Young People Interested.

Another letter reads:

Mrs. Woods White—My Dear Madam: At a meeting of the Orphans' Aid Society the following resolution was made:

"Resolved, That we, the ladies of the Orphans' Aid Society, do influence the voting members of our families to vote for the bond issue.

MRS. WILLIAM BAUER,
President.

AUDITOR IS NAMED FOR MADDOX FIRM

Wholesale Grocery Company Books Will be Inspected Soon.

Responding to petition by the Atlanta National Bank and the Coca-Cola Company for an auditor to inspect the books of J. J. & J. E. Maddox Grocery Company, against which bankruptcy proceedings were instituted in the federal court Tuesday, Judge Newman yesterday named C. J. Metz, president of the Audit Company, as the official examiner of the wholesale grocers' books.

As intervenors the attorneys for the Atlanta National Bank and the Coca-Cola Company appeared, and after reciting the fact that the Maddox company had been placed in the hands of a receiver, added that while the work so far done asserted involuntary bankruptcy, the "petitioners are informed, and believe, that the same was a friendly proceeding and done with the knowledge and consent of the said J. J. & J. E. Maddox Company."

BRANNEN TO GIVE SPACE FOR BOND ADVERTISING

Name of Drug Firm Inadvertently Omitted in Published List.

In the list of firms published yesterday in the daily papers who would contribute advertising space to the advancement of the bond issue campaign, the name of the Brannen Drug Company was omitted through error. As is well known to all Atlanta, this popular firm has for some days past and will continue to advocate "voting for the bonds" in all their advertising. It was through an error that their name did not appear. There are a great number of firms in the city whose names did not appear who are heartily in favor of the bonds, and only lack of time prevented their being seen. Notwithstanding, they will advocate the passage of the bonds in their daily announcements just the same.

BOY SPECIALISTS DISCUSS THEATER

Both Consider Ideal Playhouse an Educational Factor.

The Rev. H. E. Traillie, of Carthage, Mo., speaking at the First Baptist church last evening, said that the average boy is made up of 50 per cent fun, 20 per cent fight, 10 per cent figit, 10 per cent feeling and 10 per cent folly.

At the close of the talk H. W. Rose, another boy specialist, stated that he believed in the theater as an educational factor in the life of the boy and asked Mr. Traillie if he did not agree with him. Mr. Traillie replied: "No, not as the theater is at present," to which Mr. Rose replied: "I mean the theater as it might and should be?"

In the afternoon Mr. Rose will address the W. C. T. U.

This surplus, it was said at the company's offices, represents certain reserve accounts which present conditions do not warrant being kept in abeyance any longer.

A REMARKABLE CATARRH CURE.

Eclipse Catarrh Cure Has Brought Instant Relief to Many Chronic Sufferers.

A book of wonderful testimonials has recently been issued which clearly proves that the Eclipse Catarrh Cure is proving to be the most effective remedy yet discovered for that offensive disease from which so many suffer.

Eclipse Catarrh Cure is a vegetable preparation that is especially pleasing in its curative effects upon the delicate membranes lining the air passages, and seems to give permanent relief in the most stubborn cases of catarrh, no matter how long you have suffered with it.

R. A. Wear, Ozona, Fla., writes:

"Enclosed find $1.00 for another package of Total Eclipse Catarrh Cure. Have used the package you sent me three weeks ago four times daily, and found it of greater benefit than any other treatment I have used, and I have taken many.

"A catarrhal discharge from the right ear, which had continued uninterrupted for eight months, in spite of medical treatment, stopped after a few days' use of Total Eclipse Catarrh Cure, and has not returned.

"The hearing is also much improved.

"I feel so much benefited that I shall continue the treatment as long as may be necessary."

In order that every one suffering with Catarrh may have an opportunity of testing to their entire satisfaction the real merits of Eclipse Catarrh Cure, we offer a week's treatment for 25 cents in stamps.

The regular package or $1.00 size will be sent to any address upon receipt of price. Send in your order today.
